SOVIET TROOPS ENTRENCHING NEAR MANCHURIAN BORDER

TRYING ORDEAL OF 3 AIR LINER SURVIVORS

Half-Starved And Near Collapse.

FOUR DEAD IN FRENCH PLANE DISASTER.

London, Yesterday.

After a five-days' vigil over the dead bodies of four of their comrades, the three survivors of the French air liner, which crashed in the desolate wastes of the Apennines on Monday last, have been rescued.

When found by the search party, the trio were half-starved, having been without food for some days, and in the last stage of nervous prostration.

Pitiful scenes marked the meeting of the rescuers and the rescued, the survivors greeting their saviours hysterically, blundering down the steep mountain slope to meet them before they collapsed in a flood of tears.

Nourishing foods were prepared for the famished trio, who ate wolfishly at the first food they had seen since the meagre supplies carried on the aeroplane became exhausted.

Even then they were too weak and overwrought to attempt the journey to a neighbouring village.

The giant plane crashed in an almost incredibly inaccessible spot, and the survivors stated that they were unable to move in the perilous countryside. They gave a graphic account of the attempted landing in a thick fog when flying became impossible.

The crash rendered the wireless apparatus useless and none of them could repair it on order to transmit their position. The whole five days was spent huddled over the dead bodies of their comrades in the cabin of the liner.

Early this morning, the party sent out on the descent from the mountain top.

FAMOUS U.S. PILOT COMING TO HONG KONG

Major Doolittle Leaves
Shanghai.

HOLDS WORLD'S SPEED RECORD FOR LAND PLANES.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Major James H. Doolittle, the American stunt flier, whose aerial acrobatics delighted thousands here recently, left for Hong Kong this morning.

Further significance is lent to Major Doolittle's visit by the fact that another first-class airman, Lt. Hall is on his way from San Francisco to serve as instructor with the Chinese Air Force, and that other well-known American flyers will shortly follow.

While in Shanghai, Major Doolittle demonstrated the capabilities of a new pursuit plane with a maximum speed of 245 miles per hour. The demonstration was conducted by the China National Aviation Corporation, who are taking care of the servicing of the new fighter.

If found satisfactory, it is anticipated that the machine will be the forerunner of a powerful fleet of similar planes for China's modern air force.

HINKLER'S BODY FOUND

Pilot Crashed In An Inaccessible Spot.

AUSTRALIAN'S REMAINS DISCOVERED BY DOG.

London, Yesterday.

The remains of Squadron-Leader Bert Hinkler, who crashed in the Apennines after leaving England on January 7, in an attempt to break the England-Australia flight record, were to-day removed from the desolate scene of the disaster on the bleak mountain face, to the little village of Montemignone, five miles distant.

Like the French air mail plane, Hinkler's landing was made in a practically inaccessible spot. Montemignone, the nearest village, is only accessible in certain parts of the year, and is only reachable by a narrow winding road overhanging a precipice. The village was never visited by motor car until two years ago.

Hinkler's body was found by a dog which was accompanying a group of woodcutters, and when discovered, was found to have been badly mutilated by wolves. Death must have been instantaneous, as part of the body was turned in the wreckage of the plane.

A passport and papers, however, confirm the identity of the body. One document bears the words, "Herbert Hinkler, born at Bundaberg, Queensland."

Hinkler Thrown From Plane.

CRASHED WHEN SEARCHING FOR LANDING-PLACE.

Florence, Later.

Wrapped in the Italian Tricolore, with candles burning at the head and foot, the body of Squadron-Leader Bert Hinkler is lying in state, guarded by Carabinieri, at the village of Castel Sanleone. Many women are visiting the church to pray beside the body.

The mountain on which the body was found is reputed to be haunted, and is shunned by peasants. Charcoal burners are the only people who occasionally climb its storm-wreathed slopes.

It appears that Hinkler was flying low, searching for a landing place, when he hit the mountain side. The plane was not badly damaged. Hinkler was flung out and his body was found 70 feet away, where it has been lying under the snow until the recent thaw.

Official honours will be paid on behalf of the Italian Government.

DISTURBING REPORT FROM HARBIN

OFFICIAL CLAIMS SOLE OWNERSHIP OF C.E.R. FOR RUSSIA

HARBIN, YESTERDAY.

SOVIET TROOPS ARE ENTRENCHING IN THE VICINITY OF BORZIA, 68 MILES FROM MANCHURIAN BORDER, AND RESERVISTS IN THE CHITA AND IRKUTSK DISTRICTS, ACCORDING TO THE CHINESE PRESS HERE.

It is stated that Soviet citizens have been warned to prepare for all eventualities and to refrain from any action calculated to provoke strained Russo-Manchukuo relations.

Meanwhile, the Soviet Vice-President of the Chinese Eastern Railway has advised Manchukuo that the U.S.S.R. is the sole owner of the railway and that the Manchukuo claim to joint ownership is equivalent to an attempt to nullify the Peking Mukden Agreements of 1924.—Reuter.

No Alarm Felt In Tokyo.

JAPANESE FORCE HALVED IN NORTH MANCHURIA.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

Tokyo, Yesterday.

The grave view reported to be held abroad regarding the Japanese-Soviet tension, finds little echo in responsible quarters in Tokyo, either Japanese or foreign.

The "Daily Telegraph" believes that the Japanese movements south of the Great Wall are intended to mask troop movements further north is branded as absurd and mischievous, as on the contrary, the Japanese strength in North Manchuria has been cut by half since February last, when two infantry Brigades and one cavalry Brigade were withdrawn southward for the Jehol operations.

These troops have not yet returned from the south.

JAPAN HITS BACK AT INDIA.

To Import Raw Cotton From Belgian Congo.

Osaka, Yesterday.

An important development occurred to-day in the Indo-Japanese trade dispute, when the Federation of the Cotton Spinners' Associations decided to import raw cotton from the Belgian Congo in pursuance with a suggestion made by the Belgian Charge d'Affaires.

The boycott on raw Indian cotton is Japan's reply to the Indian Government's denunciation of the 1905 and their decision to suspend the most favoured nation treatment after six months.—Reuter.

FURIOUS FIGHTING AT NANTHENMEN

Heavy Japanese Bombardment.

CITY NOW IN RUINS.

Chinese Troops In Stout Resistance.

Peking, Yesterday.

The latest despatches from the front admit that Nantennen is now in ruins from the Japanese bombardment. The city has been evacuated and the Chinese troops have taken up new and intact defences south of Nantennen.

General Hsu Ting-yao, Chinese Commander of the forces, in a report despatched to Headquarters at 2.30 yesterday afternoon says that the Japanese infantry and artillery, assisted by eight aeroplanes, continued attacking the Chinese centre and the two flanks on the Nantennen front with utmost violence.

"Most of our fortifications were demolished, but our troops offered a spirited resistance." The report adds that at some points the Japanese bombardment had been so violent it was impossible to repair the damaged fortifications.

"However, our troops are exerting their utmost efforts in holding their positions at many points with hand-to-hand fighting."

Attack Repulsed.

An earlier message from General Hsu Ting-yao said that a Japanese infantry, 6,000 strong, attacked the Chinese line this morning from our directions. The Chinese troops bravely resisted and the attack was repulsed.

General Hsu puts the Chinese casualties between 600 and 600 men wounded.—Reuter.

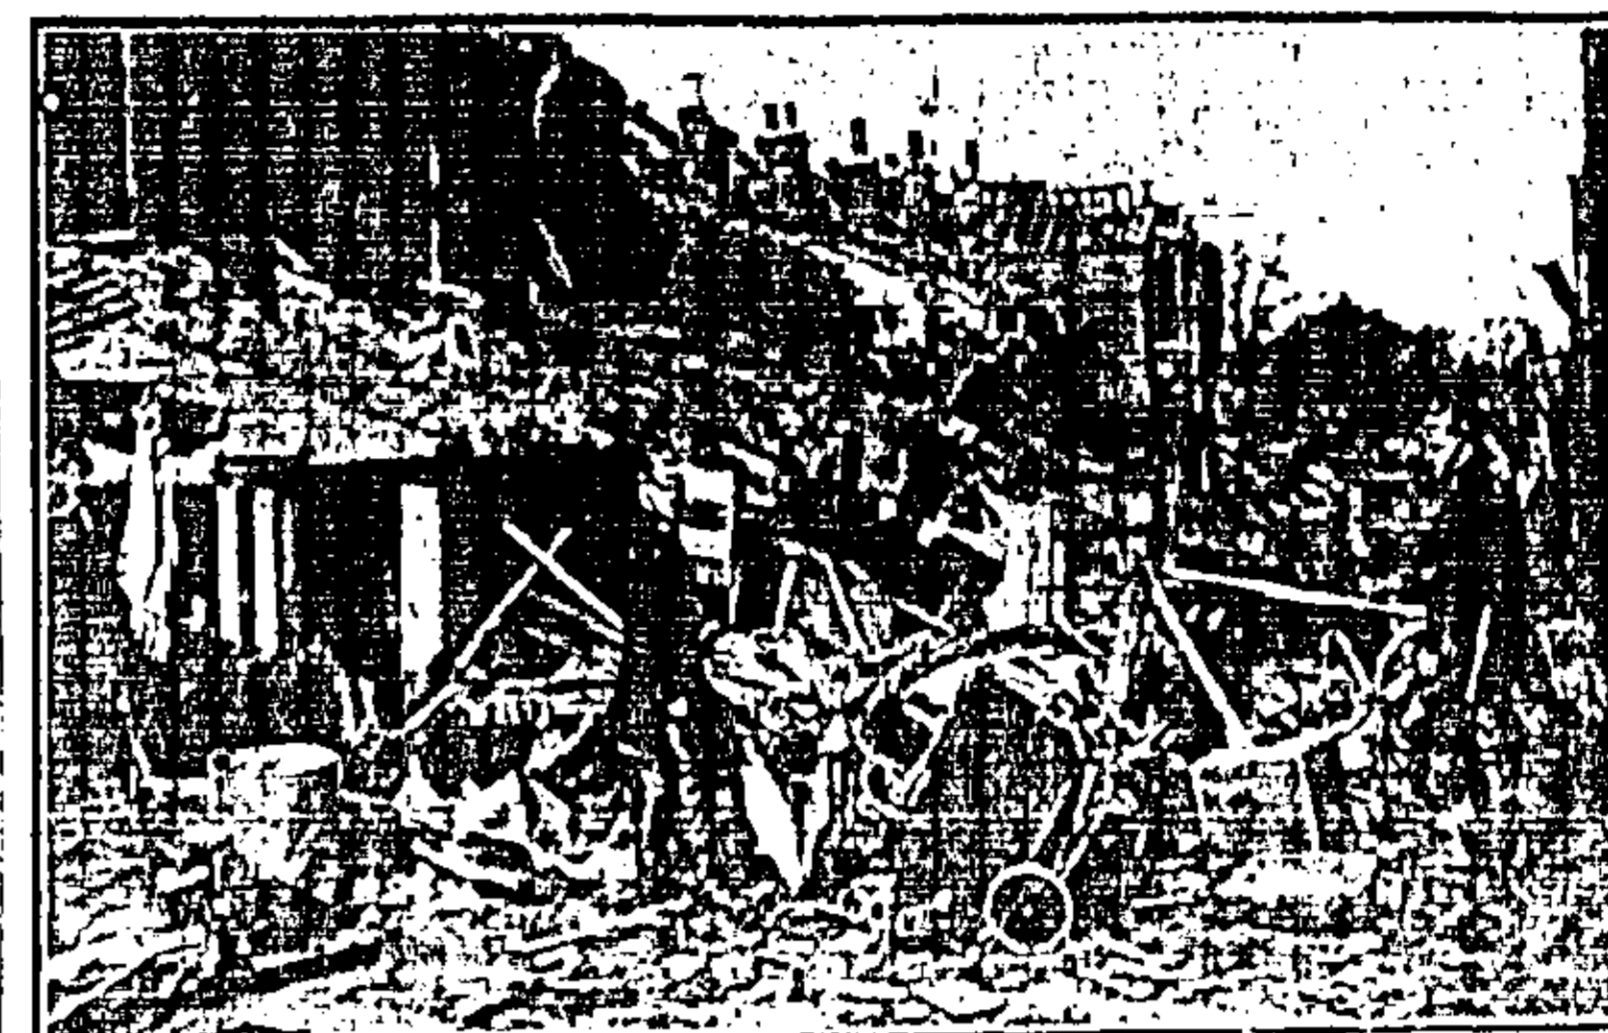

Generals Ma And Su.

CHINESE VOLUNTEERS LEADERS IN SWITZERLAND.

Geneva, April 28.

A group of forty Chinese, members of the former armies led by Generals Ma and Su Ping-wen arrived in Basle this morning en route to Lucerne.

The party was greeted by Mr. Woo, the Chinese Charge d'Affaires at Berne. Generals Ma and Su Ping-wen were both detained in Berlin owing to slight disposition, but will be following in a few days. The group included Hsu Di-nou, Chief of Staff to General Ma, Su Ping-wen and Generals Wang Telling and Li Tu.—Reuter.

FRENCH AVIATRIX HERE

Flight From Shanghai To Hong Kong.

ENCOUNTERS VIOLENT RAINSTORM.

Mlle. Maryse Hilz, the noted French aviatrix, arrived in the Colony on her return flight from Tokyo to Paris at about 5.15 p.m. yesterday. She took almost exactly nine hours for her flight from Shanghai.

Bad weather was encountered almost all the way from Shanghai. Low clouds and rain hampered the flier almost all the time. In spite of this, however, the famous aviatrix is making splendid time, and hopes to beat the Tokyo-Paris record.

She is only staying here overnight, and will take off again for Hanoi at 7.30 this morning. From Hanoi she will fly to Rangoon after which she hopes to be clear of the bad weather and will be able to make better time than she has been doing.

She was welcomed by a large crowd on her arrival here. Many of the local French community, including the French Consul, M. Dufaur de la Prade, and the Vice-Consul Mons. J. Royere, were present at Kai Tak.

Mlle. Hilz saw her plane refueled, and then spent the night at the Peninsula Hotel.

Mlle. Hilz Interviewed.

Interviewed at the Peninsula Hotel last night, Mlle. Hilz told the Sunday Herald that she had encountered very bad weather conditions on the whole of her flight.

Popular Features In The "China Mail."

"Portrait of a Lady on Park Avenue," a great short story by the popular novelist Michael Arlen will appear in to-morrow's China Mail, continuing the series of short stories which are published daily in Hong Kong's oldest and brightest newspaper.

Other features in the China Mail, the oldest-established newspaper in the Far East, include the Colony's best Sports pages, a Women's page, a cross-word puzzle, bridge notes, and a daily cartoon. Columns on Literature; Art and Drama; Building, Engineering and Aviation; Motoring; Cinemas and Food and Home Economics, also appear during each week.

NAZIS' RAID ON — COMMUNISTS

10,000 Search Berlin Region.

FUGITIVE JUMPS 45 FEET TO HIS DEATH.

Berlin, Yesterday.

A recrudescence of the German police harrying Communists who are alleged to be organising a counter-revolution, occurred when 10,000 policemen and Nazi "Brown Shirts" cordoned off a big region in the west end of the city, and throughout the evening searched hundreds of houses from top to bottom.

Simultaneously, police at Recklinghausen, Rhineland, seized 100 rifles and arrested 80 Communists.

During the course of the raid, one fugitive Communist jumped 45 feet from an upstairs window and was killed instantly.—Reuter.

CURRENCY TRUCE BY THE POWERS

New York Report Of Proposal.

BRITISH ECONOMIC ADVISERS REMAIN IN AMERICA.

Sterling And Dollar To Be Pegged.

Washington, Yesterday.

A temporary currency truce to become effective with the tariff truce before the assembly of the World Economic Conference, was agreed upon by President Roosevelt, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and M. Herriot, during the Washington conversations.

The announcement was made by the "New York Times" to-day, and the newspaper further stated that Germany and other countries will be asked to join in the temporary measure.

Sterling and the dollar, it is proposed, will be pegged at the average market value over a period of several months.

The British economic advisers, who accompanied the British Prime Minister to Washington to participate in the discussions, are remaining in the United States for an indefinite period, to watch the possible effects of the inflation measures passed by the Senate yesterday.—Reuter.

British Loan To France.

AGREEMENT FOR HUGE CREDIT ISSUE.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

An agreement for a £25,000,000 to £30,000,000 short-term British loan to France is expected to be signed very shortly by the British and French Treasuries.

The agreement provides for a French Treasury issue of six-months' Treasury Bonds in London at about 2 1/2 per cent. interest. The sterling thus acquired will be converted to francs as France requires.

The capital will be placed at the disposal of France by British banks and the operation will remain outside the Exchange Equalisation Fund, the Government merely intervening to assure the success of the operation.

Hall To-day.OLD STRUCTURE TO GO

To-day at 3 p.m., the Chapel in the newly erected Sailors' Home and Seamen's Institute, Gloucester Road, will be consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Ronald Owen Hall, Bishop of Hong Kong under the dedication of the Chapel of St. Peter.

The Church of St. Peter, standing in what was once the compound of the Sailors' Home, West Point, was originally built for a Seafarers' Church, but owing to the changing conditions in the Port and Colony, it finally became a Chapel of Ease to St. John's Cathedral, serving the spiritual needs of the Anglican Community, especially in that area.

Now, however, development of fresh residential areas, especially on the Mainland, has caused a further change of conditions, and this, as well as the structural repairs necessary if the Church is to be maintained, has made it advisable to give up the Church and to organise Church life in the new residential areas while making other arrangements for such members of St. Peter's Congregation as have not moved elsewhere, most of these being residents in the Happy Valley area.

The Chapel of the Resurrection in the Protestant Cemetery fulfils their needs to some extent, but it has been felt that full provision would be made if the Chapel in the new Sailors' Home and Seamen's Institute could carry on the work and traditions of St. Peter's Church, not only as a Seafarers' Church but also as a parochial centre.

The Chaplains of the Mission to Seamen conducted the services and work of St. Peter's Church from 1889 until 1919, so in many ways it is merely a happy return to an old and long-standing arrangement.

Any who like to attend the Consecration ceremony will be warmly welcomed.

A very charming wedding took place at St. John's Cathedral yesterday afternoon, when Miss Frances Barbara Macfadyen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Macfadyen of Hong Kong became the wife of Dr. G. V. Griffith of the Government Medical Department.

The bride who was given away by her father, was gracefully gowned in a Princess robe of ivory liberty satin with full sleeves and train cut in panels. Her long Brussels net veil was held by a wreath of tiny orange blossoms and finished with clusters of the same flower, completing an extremely pleasing effect by "Eunice". She carried a bouquet of beautiful, selected lilies.

Miss Helen Knill and Miss Betty Laing, the bridesmaids, wore beautiful dresses of daffodil shades, finished with velvet sashes and cloche hats of tassel straw. They carried bouquets of Larkspur.

Miss Athol Dovey, the flower girl, wore a Victorian dress and also carried a posy of Larkspur.

Mrs. A. L. F. Dovey was matron of honour, while Mr. D. L. Prophan discharged the duties of best man. Mr. H. H. Beddow and Mr. E. H. Williams were the groomsmen.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's father's residence, 4 Basilea, the happy couple leaving later for Taiipo where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride's going away dress was a Sapphire Blue ensemble by "Eunice" with hat, bag and shoes to match.

Komor And Komor's Art Display

Beautiful Works By Japanese Artists.

AN opportunity to acquire art knowledge and see beautiful Japanese water colours, is given by Messrs. Komor & Komor, who have made arrangements for a Spring and Fall Exhibition of Japanese paintings by the foremost artists of Japan.

Water Colours by Terauchi, Kobayashi, Banson, Yoshida, etc., are known the world over, every subject is represented and the beauty of Japan is shown in colours vivid but still natural.

Prices are exceedingly reasonable. There are over 200 examples of gorgeous paintings ranging from $2 upwards. There is a perfect variety of subjects. Kobayashi the Doyen of Japanese landscape painters have sent some very effective views, for instance No. 30, "Ofuna" is beautifully drawn and very realistic. Terauchi a favourite of Hong Kong again displays some most remarkable pictures No. 63 "Nikko" No. 65 "Kamakura" and many others.

There are pictures by many other artists and the paintings combine with every dwelling and when selected in the most suitable way there is nothing to equal a water colour to brighten your leisure hours spent at home.

The Exhibition opened on April 27 and remains open for ten days only, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., at their premises in the York Buildings.

BLACK BAGS

BLACK handbags which have become shabby should be treated with furniture-cream. This will remove scratches and marks and render the bag like new again. Apply the cream by means of a soft rag and massage it well into the leather, paying special attention to any marks.

Leave on for several hours, then polish with a soft cloth. Not only does this treatment give a beautiful gloss to a black bag, but, in addition the cream does much to preserve the leather to keep it supple.

"Chinese Coolie" Hats

Little Crown To New Summer Styles.

PERHAPS the most amusing of the tip-tilted hats we have to wear in coming months are the large-brimmed sun-hats. Here the crowns almost disappear altogether; or brims are attached halfway up the crowns. Some models are like Chinese coolie hats. Mannequins at advance dress showings manage to balance them on their heads in the seclusion of the salons—but if the wind blew!

These off-at-the-back hats are good news for the hairdressers. Woe betide the woman with untidy curls or untrimmed bob. Those of us who have slothfully decreased our visits to the hairdresser will have to take a short cut to chic—fortnightly or once a week.

Plain And Patterned Tweeds

Uncrushable Linen For Sports Wear.

SUITS of plain or patterned English tweeds always look well in the spring. They are worn with high-necked blouses or jumpers of many different fabrics. Plaid designs are seen in gingham, linen, and taffetas, and there is a new blouse of crocheted string which goes well with a suit of yellow or brown tweed.

Later in the season suits of heavy shantung will have little blouses of stockinette, angora, or organdie, and for sports wear an uncrushable linen with a tweedlike design will look well with the new check tweeds and homespun.

Fashion Notes Of The Week

Dark Blouses Are Ubiquitous.

VERA Borea is lowering waist-lines to the hipbones. Increased fullness is noted in her over-blouses and in her wide, flared, gored skirts.

Lyolene's day-time silhouette and length remain unchanged. She is showing some evening waist lines and full all-round pleated skirts. Many contrasting tunic and cape transformations effects are seen in this house.

Dark blouses are ubiquitous; interesting ones shown by Peggy Morris are of dark organdie to be worn with light silk or wool suits. Vera Borea makes taffeta blouses with linen suits.

Vera Borea's short, flaring bathing suits of plain wool or checked cotton are novelties.

For a young girl a country ensemble may consist of a rust-coloured, hand-knitted short-waisted cardigan, a knitted cravat and new shaped beret. A large metal "safety pin" is stuck through the little cravat.

For social occasions in town there is a smart model in a crushed black silk fabric. The front comes down to a point over one eye and is turned back in an upward direction towards the back of the hat. Here there is a narrow pleated ribbon decoration with a centre plaiting of white.

Extremely effective this for a middle-aged woman.

Fashion Puts Lid On New Hat

Plumage Caps Are Latest Mode.

AS the weather grows brighter fashions grow more and more light-hearted; milliners are producing new and novel hats every day. The fez is changing in shape.

Plumage caps, or caps largely composed of plumage, are other smart and becoming newcomers. One jolly little model, in shape something between a pill-box and a fez, is made entirely of bright red plumage with a couple of birds' heads placed in front.

The lid hat—the name describes its shape—is another newcomer. Its inch-high crown is tied at the base with a band of lacquered ribbon; below it is an inch or so of straw, which rests just above the eyebrows. Sailor hats with a flat crown and a slightly turn-down brim are made in checked materials. A black-and-white shepherd's-plaid sailor is trimmed with a band and bow of black patent leather. Narrow elastic is used to keep them in position!

Pastel-tinted felt hats are shown to wear with spring suits. A deep reef in the crown ensures the forward slope; the same effect is achieved with the help of tucks running from back to front inside the crown. The only trimming on such hats is a band of dark peter-sham, to tone with the colour selected. At the other end of the scale are the giant picture-hats of flower-printed silks. They are being made for the summer.

"Whisper Stocking" Latest Scream

Dullness Personified.

"THE Whisper Stocking" is the very latest scream. Last year the dull silk stockings began to supersede the shiny, and the "whisper" is dullness personified, with a crepe-chiffon finish all softness and quietness—a mere breath. It is made in dark-brown, pepper and hazel; these, with honey-colour and natural-rose are to be the favourite colours this spring. Gold and silver kid is going to be used a great deal for shoes, bags, belts and other dress accessories. Specimens already on view in the shops are extremely pretty. But, if fashion ever bothers itself about art—how chocolate-box!

Metal Trimming Vogue

THE metal trimming vogue is gaining ground. It is accentuated by Lyolene's ball and chain, buttoned evening wraps and Vera Borea's large metal button-holes on coats and jackets. Silver wire is intertwined to make a cuff bracelet for the right arm by Lyolene and is wound into spiral buttons by Vera Borea. Copper telephone wire braided belts and wound buttons are being launched by Peggy Morris.

LADIES!

With the approaching of years, you should give more and particular attention to the three most valuable assets of your beauty: — your EYES, CHIN and NECK. While you are radiantly lovely, the menace of the years passes by unnoticed; but that is the correct time to prepare against the ravages of increasing age. — that sagging of the muscles, dulling of the eyes and wrinkling which ruin a woman's glory.

NOW is the TIME to consult a BEAUTY SPECIALIST of note, Mademoiselle Tamara of "LOUIS" SALOON will be pleased to explain to you how and in what way you can overcome the difficulties of retaining your beauty by simple and natural principles.

Expert advice and a method of complete safety in accord with your skin. Unobtainable Elsewhere, will be given gratuitously to you by Mademoiselle Tamara.

MR. GILBERT HARRIMAN'S FIRST WIN BRINGS $199 DIVIDEND

SENSATIONAL WIN ON SADKO

MR. FUNG PAYS $122 ON ORLANDO

LADY PEEL'S SECOND WIN

MR. Gilbert Harriman yesterday recorded his first win at the Valley when he brought off a sensational triumph on Sadko. Only 38 backed him for a win, and as a result there was a $199.10 dividend—the highest of the year—and $62.60 for a place.

This was not the only three-figure dividend of the afternoon. Mr. Y. T. Fung, in bringing Orlando home for his first win of the season, returned a dividend of $122.50.

Lady Peel recorded another triumph at the Valley when Mr. D. Black rode Lucy Glitters to victory in the Charters Towers Handicap. This was Mr. Black's second win on this pony.

Mr. Johnny Heard, though not achieving all that was expected of him, again proved to be the leading jockey, securing three wins and two thirds in ten starts. He now leads Mr. "Leo" Frost, who failed to register a win yesterday, by three winners.

A protest was lodged in the last race of the day against Mr. Proulx on Hey Tor for cutting across the field in the home straight, but the Stewards over-ruled it.

When it was seen that Bag and Baggage had drawn the rails in the Mount Parker Handicap over five furlongs it looked a "cinch" for Mr. "Johnny" Heard, who was riding the favourite, Mr. "Benny" Proulx, however, set such a fast pace on King's Bounty at the start that the favourite cracked up badly to secure only fourth place.

Mr. Harriman on Sadko followed close on the heels of the Dynasty second string, and took the lead after passing the Rock. Gay Crusader (Mr. Fung) came through in brilliant style in the straight and one of the best finishes of the day resulted in a win for Sadko by a neck.

This was Mr. Gilbert Harriman's first win of the season, and Sadko's second. The pony paid $199.10 for a win and $62.60 for a place—the highest win dividend of the year, beating Navy Haff's $185. Sadko covered the distance in 1 min. 10 1/5 sec.—3/5 sec. inside King's Bounty's track record, established under Y. S. Chang at the Annual Meeting last year. It is not an official record, however, as it was not a weight for inches event.

Bag and Baggage was fourth, and Cyclamen Bay (Mr. Frost) sixth. Don was last.

Late Effort Wins.

Passing the stands the first time round, Alexandria Hall (Mr. Proulx), Solar Star (Mr. Ingram), Street Singer (Mr. Butler) and Tenorio (Mr. Harriman) led the field in the Mount Davis Handicap. At the Rock the order was not changed, though Widnes (Mr. Young) was moving up in good style, and California (Mr. Liang) looked dangerous.

Coming into the straight Mr. Ip brought Wayward Stag through with a rush to snatch the race from California which surprised Street Singer in the last ten yards. Dee was fourth.

Favourite Wins.

Krata Viz (Mr. Butler), after a poor start, was sent into an early lead in the Hunchback's Plate, and he kept his advantage up to the Rock. At this point Charming Face, White Butterfly and Lucky Star crept up and entered the straight in that order. The favourite won to give Mr. "Johnny" Heard his first win of the afternoon.

Black Velvet (Mr. Stanton), Krata Viz, Auction Bridge (Mr. Proulx), Ta Peastle (Mr. Ingram) and Heather Leaf (Mr. Carroll), the "also-rans" finished in that order.

Lucy Glitters Wins.

Lady Peel recorded another popular triumph when her pony, Lucy Glitters, won the Charters Towers Handicap with Mr. D. Black in the saddle.

Cossack's Choice (Mr. Harriman) set a fast pace at the beginning, but Mr. Black sent his mount to the front at the football stands and kept his lead in spite of a magnificent burst from Frier Tuck (Mr. Frost) in the back straight. Almost neck and neck the two fought out a stirring finish. Mr. Black just winning by a neck to pay $36.40 for a win. Lady Peel led Lucy Glitters in.

Canny, the favourite, was third, with Kilrea fourth.

Bad Start Tells.

Mr. Frost set the pace on The Panther in the second Kalkan Plate, getting away to another good start. The Raincoat (Mr. Fung) and Baguio (Mr. Botelho) were close on the heels of the champion jockey. Funny Face (Mr. Proulx) failed to get a good start and was badly left.

Now's The Time (Mr. Ip), third favourite, drew the rails, but failed to take advantage of it, and it was only fine riding on the part of his jockey that enabled him to come second by a small margin.

Coming into the straight Vigilance and The Panther fought out a good finish, but before the post was reached Mr. Ip flashed past The Panther and challenged Vigilance. Had he got away to a better start he would undoubtedly have won from the favourite. Gold Age (Mr. Ingram) was fourth.

Trio In Procession.

The St. George's Plate provided a slow procession, Trentbridge being given an easy gallop by Mr. Heard all the way round the 1 1/4 miles. Jungle Jim (Mr. Butler) and Poker Face (Mr. Ip) were allowed to keep up with the Derby winner for once round, but they were badly left in the last quarter, which was covered by the winner in the slow time of 0.31.0.

Trentbridge rewarded punters with 20 cents for a bet each way.

Favourite's Poor Start.

Mr. Frost encountered some trouble with Disorderly Conduct at the start of the second Subscription Grilling Plate, and as a result was never in a challenging position.

Paul Jones (Mr. Botelho) set the pace with Victor (Mr. Black) in close attendance, but both ponies were out of the running at the Rock. Gay Butterfly, not favoured with National Day, was not

"China Mail" Realizes Merits Of Orlando.

"Rapiere" had five winners among his selections in The China Mail. They were Wayward Stag ($13.10), Charming Face ($9.60), Vigilance ($10.20), Trentbridge ($5.10), and King's Parade ($43.30). "Rapiere" also spotted Orlando's possibilities. This tip was worth $122.50 or $25.00 for a place.

To-morrow "Rapiere" will publish 1933 Valley Racing statistics in the China Mail. Every Wednesday "Rapiere" writes for the China Mail's Racing Supplement.

EVERTON'S CUP 93,000 SEE MANCHESTER CITY LOSE 3 TO 0

GOAL DOWN AT INTERVAL

A CROWD of 93,000 saw Everton win the English Cup for the second time when they beat Manchester City by three goals to nil at Wembley Stadium to-day after leading by a goal to nil at the interval.

Stein, the outside left, Dixie Dean, the centre forward, and Dunn, the inside right, scored Everton's goals which gave them the custody of the Cup for the first time since the 1905-6 season when Everton beat Newcastle at Stamford Bridge.

His Majesty the King was not present at Wembley owing to the inclement weather, but he was represented by H.R.H. the Duke of York.

The Stadium rapidly reached its capacity crowd of 93,000. Scores of policemen lined the track and a similar number of cameramen fought for advantage points behind the goals. The band of the Scots Guards commenced community singing, many rattles joining in the choruses of popular airs.

The teams were given a great welcome when they "tried the feel of the pitch," which was excellent, but slightly kreaky as the result of slight rain. The sun, however, came out as the players went off the pitch, and transformed it into a patch of emerald green.

Manchester were unfortunate in not having Tilson fit. This caused a change in their line-up, Marshall going to inside right and Herd coming into centre forward.

Conditions were ideal when the Duke of York shook hands with the players prior to the start.

Dixie Dean won the toss and took advantage of the sun.

Toseland made ground, but Sagar cleared with a long kick down the centre. A bout of scrappy play then ensued on the Everton right-wing where Goldard and Dunn tried the strength of Bury and Dale.

The game was very even until Cann let Stein, but Dean failed to gather his pass from three yards range. A moment later Britton, taking a free kick, hit the crossbar, and the ball bounced out to STEIN, who hooked into the net in the 40th minute of the game. The interval arrived without addition to the score.—Reuter.

McMullan set the City forward again in motion, but Sagar cleared Cowan's long shot. The City, however, back again, and

FINCHER LOSES

Hung Wins Final Set At 12-10.

K.C.C. CHAMPIONSHIPS.

W. C. Hung provided a first-class tennis sensation yesterday at the K.C.C. when he defeated "Teddy" Fincher, the Kowloon champion in the Second Round of the Handicap Tournament.

Fincher, who entered the Final Round of the Colony Championship for three years in succession, was eliminated this year in the Semi-Final Round. Hung was defeated by H. J. Armstrong in the First Round.

The following were the results: JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

JONES SCORES HIS 25TH GOAL

BY REGISTERING A WELL-DESERVED VICTORY OVER THE LINCOLNS IN THEIR FIRST DIVISION LEAGUE SOCCER ENCOUNTER YESTERDAY, SOUTH CHINA ASCENDED YET ANOTHER RUNG IN THE LADDER TO THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

WITH FIVE GAMES IN HAND OVER THE ARTILLERY SOUTH CHINA ARE NOW ONLY 7 POINTS IN ARREARS, WHILE THE BORDERERS, WHO HAVE PLAYED TWO GAMES MORE THAN THE CHINESE, LEAD THEM BY ONLY ONE POINT.

Both the Borderers and the Artillery, registered overwhelming victories in yesterday's First Division League encounters against the Recreio and St. Joseph's, by scores of 7-1 and 8-1, respectively.

Jones, the Borderers' marksman who leads the First Division goal-scoring list, added another three to his previous total of 25. Edmonds, of the Artillery, topped yesterday's goal-scorers with four goals, which included the "hat-trick." Arcull, of the Radio, was another player, to perform this feat.

SAINTS FIELD JUNIOR

ELEVEN.

"HAT TRICK" FOR EDMUNDS.

The Artillery had enjoyed an exceptionally easy victory over St. Joseph's at Sookunpoo yesterday when they won by 8 goals to 1.

The Saints' team was composed mainly of reserves, and their play was consequently of a very low standard. Gomes and Castilho were the only players in the team whose standard of play came near to senior league football, the remainder of the players merely completing the side.

The Artillery forwards played St. Joseph's well, but on the whole they took things easily missing chances B. A. Hyder which they would never have done, had they been opposed to a better team. Pardoe, Rodgers, M. Y. Adal and Harris had the St. Joseph's A. M. Wahab forwards well in hand, with the result that the latter hardly ever reached the Artillery penalty area.

The Artillery started off at a hurricane pace from the start, and Bryant and Pardoe went close within a minute of the commencement, Bryant heading just wide and Pardoe sending the ball over the bar from outside the penalty area.

MacDonald gave the Gunners the lead when Pardoe sent for him to hunt into the net. Play still remained in the St. Joseph's half, and another goal was not long in coming. Seal sending in a beautiful shot from the touch-line. The ball sailed clean over Mathias's head into the far corner of the net. The Saints attempted a break-away, and Omar shot for goal, but Combey saved easily and cleared. Pardoe brought Allen up to take a penalty awarded against St. Joseph's, and the back made no mistake, placing the ball well clear of Mathias.

The fourth goal came from the foot of Edmunds who sent in a ground shot which Mathias fumbled and allowed to stray into the net.

After the interval the Gunners maintained their pressure, and after several attempts in which Gomes made some nice clearances, Edmunds eventually notched another goal from a scramble in the Saints' goal-mouth. A "hat-trick" was recorded a few minutes later when Edmunds put the Artillery further ahead, when he cleverly headed into the net. Saint Joseph's broke away and Pardoe had the misfortune to handle the ball when close to his goal. The resultant kick awarded, just on the penalty line, was taken by Costa and with a high shot the latter gave the Saints their only point. There was no danger in the Saints' attacks, and in consequence play was confined to their half. Bryant gave the Artillery their eighth goal.

St. Joseph's—Mathias; Gomes; Fernandes, Azim, Omar, Costello and Artillery:—Combey; Allen, Wong; Rodgers, Pardoe, Harris; Gough; Edmunds, Bryant, MacDonald and Seal.

Borderers Toy With Recreio

JONES AND HAZELWOOD PAIR WELL.

2 PENALTIES CONVERTED.

The Borderers easily overcame the Recreio on the Kowloon ground, winning as they pleased by 7 goals to 1.

The game was one-sided and consequently uninteresting. The soldiers scored five goals before the interval and then indulged in shooting practice.

Podmore held F. Santos and the other forwards were held well in check by Wallace and Underwood. Smith handled the ball once only in the first half, but he made a splendid save when he dived at the feet of J. Santos in the latter stages. Mullane and Rees positioned themselves well.

The Borderers left wing displayed the best football. Jones had a new partner in Hazelwood, and this pair combined brilliantly. Fortey made some good openings, but he missed several good chances, while L. Harris outwitted McIntosh and sent across some fine centres. H. Harris had many chances to score, but Lawrence positioned himself well for each shot that Harris sent goalwards.

Lawrence made some good saves, though he was a little shaky at first. Silva-Netto and Gonsalves were also erratic at the commencement. The Recreio halves could not hold the Borderers forwards, Figueiredo alone showing his usual form. Ribeiro started off well, but did not last the pace after Wallace had settled down. With the exception of F. Santos the other Recreio forwards did little.

FIRST MINUTE SCORE.

In the first minute the Borderers went ahead. Wallace sent L. Harris away, and Jones had little difficulty in heading in that player's well-placed centre. The Borderers kept play in the Recreio area, during which period H. Harris missed two good scoring chances. The Recreio, however, withstood the heavy pressure and later attacked, but Smith cleared Delgado's shot in masterly manner.

The Borderers were soon back and Fortey missed an open goal, and L. Harris shot across the goalmouth when well placed. Maintaining pressure the soldiers went further ahead when Podmore netted with a good shot from 25 yards range. The Recreio forwards indulged in a fine passing bout from the restart, but Mullane cleared out to Hazelwood who drew the defence before passing to Jones who netted easily. H. Harris hit the crossbar, and Lawrence saved well from Jones. Not to be denied, however, Harris centred for Fortey to make the total four. Three goals in ten minutes! F. Santos made a good solo effort, but Rees cleared on the line for Fortey to miss another good chance. Just before the interval Hazelwood scored the fifth with a good ground shot.

The second half provided a poor display of football, the Borderers toying with the opposing defence. H. Harris went in the centre in an effort to score, but he again failed to place his shots with accuracy so that chance after chance was wasted. In a Recreio raid Podmore handled and F. Santos gave Smith no chance from the "spot kick." H. Harris again hit the woodwork, and then Jones worked his way through to make the score 6-1. A minute later a penalty for "hands" was awarded the Borderers and Mullane netted.

Borderers:—Smith; Mullane, Rees; Wallace, Podmore, Underwood; Harris, L. Harris, H. Fortey, Jones and Hazelwood.

Recreio:—Lawrence; Silva Netto, Gonsalves, Laurel, Figueiredo, McIntosh, Castilho, Delgado, F. Santos, J. Santos and Ribeiro.

South China Prove Their Superiority.

FORWARDS RIDDLE THE LINCOLNS' DEFENCE.

SHORT PASSING TACTICS.

At Caroline Hill yesterday the Lincolns were well and truly beaten by South China by 3 goals to 1.

Winning the toss, South China elected to kick against the wind with the sun behind them, a policy which later proved to be advantageous.

The Lincolns were the first to be on the offensive, and Hocquard, accepting a perfect pass from Ridley, ran well up the wing and returned the ball slightly backward. Ridley, following up a few yards behind, attempted a first time shot, but completely missed the ball.

Hocquard, well fed by Ridley, sent over some perfect centres, one of which, Lim Thin-chai, in attempting to clear, was forced to concede a corner. The flag kick, however, was headed over by Higgins.

Had the Lincolns kept up the same pressure throughout, no doubt there would have been a different result, but very soon the South China forwards settled down and began to dominate the game.

After the first few minutes, South China was definitely the better team, and it was only a matter of minutes before they opened their account. It was only fitting that their captain, Wong Mei-shun, should have placed them in the lead. He scored with a glorious drive from 25 yards' range.

Fung King-cheong was in good form as the leader of the South China forward line. He repeatedly set his wings in motion with accurately placed forward passes, and was always prepared for snap shots at goal, one effort in particular being well saved by Heath.

The short passing tactics of the South China inside forwards had the Lincolns' defence guessing time after time, but as is usual too much of this sort of thing when only a few yards from goal enabled a defender to clear.

Tam Kong-pak was a brilliant opportunist, being outstanding for the manner he continually got his head to the centres sent over by both wingers. It was from a centre by Ng Po-kul that Tam headed South China's second goal, neatly deflecting the ball past Heath.

CORUS' FINE DISPLAY

Occasionally the Lincolns broke away; but they were seldom dangerous. Cork played a hard game at centre-half, and on one occasion came near to scoring. Throwing the ball out towards the left wing, he suddenly swerved inwards and shot. Lim Thin-chai was not expecting Cork to shoot, and had great difficulty in turning the ball round the post.

Ridley was the best of the Lincolns forwards, but he received little support. Higgins, although a trier, could not settle down at all.

There were a great number of petty fouls, mainly offences by South China defenders, who were continually penalised for shoulder charges when jumping for the ball.

The second half commenced lamely, South China apparently being content with a two goal lead, and it was some time before play reached First Division standard.

Harding spoiled many good movements by hanging on to the ball too long. He attempted to beat too many opponents, when a pass would have been more beneficial, especially as Baldry was often unmarked on the wing.

A fine movement initiated by Wong Mei-shun almost resulted in another goal for the Chinese. Ng Po-kul took the ball well up the field and sent over a nice centre. Tam Kong-pak brilliantly headed back to Fung, who missed by inches, his drive passing just over the bar. South China, however, scored immediately after, Ng Po-kul being responsible for sending over a perfect centre for Fung to deflect the ball to Tam Kong-pak, who met the ball on the volley to score with a great drive.

Fighting back well, the Lincolns were unlucky not to reduce the lead through Higgins, who headed just over the bar from a pass from Ridley, and again a few minutes after, when from a free kick, a great drive by Hocquard was brilliantly cleared by Li Tin-sang.

Play livened up considerably towards the end of the game, and more thrills were packed into the last quarter of an hour than there had been in the rest of the encounter. South China did almost anything but score. Tam Kong-pak had two seemingly certain goals saved by Heath, who also saved a great drive from Wong at the expense of a corner. Wong also struck the upright, with Heath well beaten, but the Chinese could not increase their score.

In the closing minutes the ball was sent out to Ridley, who beat several players before passing to Higgins. Not being favourably placed, Higgins touched the ball forward to Harding, who had no difficulty in scoring from point-blank range.

South China:—Lim Thin-chai; Li Tin-sang, Lau Mau, Yeung In-chai, Leung Wing-chai, Lee Kwok-wah, Ng Po-kul, Wong Mei-shun, Fung King-cheong, Tam Kong-pak and Ip Pak-wo.

Lincolns:—Heath; Turner, Ash; Dudley, Cork, Bett; Baldry, Harding, Higgins, Ridley and Hocquard.

SECOND DIVISION.

Elsworth Scores Decider For Navy.

CLUB JUNIORS LOSE LAST GAME BY 3-4

The last match of the season in the Second Division resulted in a win for the Navy, the Club being beaten by 3 goals to 2.

The game was splendidly contested throughout, with the Navy slightly superior. They, however, missed many opportunities. Elsworth led the Navy forwards well, and Blair at centre half opened up the game very successfully. Blair, however, was outstanding in defence. Sayer was excellent on the wing, and was seen at his best after he had been injured. Both goalkeepers brought off spectacular saves.

The Navy were the first to attack but the Club forwards were soon on the offensive. Lawson, however, relieved a dangerous situation by shooting over the bar. The Navy took the lead when Bailton huddled in the penalty area. Brooks shot wide at his first attempt but he made no mistake when the kick was retaken owing to Simmons moving in his goal. Both sides attacked in turn and the Club equalised when Robertson headed through. Nearing the interval the Navy regained the lead when Sayer broke away and passed to Elsworth who scored with a good shot.

The second half produced football of a ding-dong nature, and from a melee in the Navy goal Lawson's shot was deflected into the goal by a defender. Elsworth soon after hit the crossbar, and a minute later again gave his side the lead when he converted a centre from Humphries.

Club:—Simmons; Bailton, Korlosky; Hooper, Panchon, Tavelon; Lawson, Wirth, Farrow, Wood and Robertson. Navy:—Sinden; Wood, Powell; Humphries, Blair, Draper; Ferris, Brooks, Elsworth, Lawson and Sayer.

BASEBALL SUSPENSIONS END TO - DAY

Senators' Third Win Over Yankees.

BADE RUTH'S FOURTH HOMER

New York, Yesterday. Mr. Harridge, President of the American Baseball League, has declared that Myer and Whitehill, two of the Senators players, and Ben Chapman, of the Yankees, have been suspended for five days, effective from last Wednesday, and each fined $100 as the result of the riot during the Yankees-Senators game last Wednesday.

The suspension ends to-morrow (to-day), so that the players are eligible to play on Monday.

Babe Ruth's fourth homer of the season did not give the Yankees a triumph over the Senators, and they were noosed out by a 4 to 3 margin for their third defeat of the season.

Roy Johnson hit his third homer of the season, but Boston lost to the Athletics. Brilliant pitching by French blanked the Cardinals and gave Pittsburgh Pirates their ninth win in eleven games.

Results as cabled by Reuter were as follows:—

PORTUGAL'S CHANGING FACE

Professor Who Keeps His Country In Order

The New Constitution

(By Vernon Bartlett).

IN the older part of Oporto, down near the wharves which flank the river Douro stands a square, grey building which is British and which has played a conspicuous part in the development of British trade.

Known as the "Factory," it used to be the entrepot for British goods and the resort of British merchants trading with Portugal and the Indies. Now it is little more than an expensive and very exclusive club for dealers in port wine, but its quiet, dignified rooms, its old registers, its portraits of the ancestors of the present merchants—for the British colony in Oporto must be one of the oldest established in Europe—convey a strange sense of romance.

Too many of us forget that after Vasco da Gama's discovery of the route to India such places as Lisbon and Oporto were among the great trading centres of the world, and if the English "factory" in Lisbon was destroyed by the earthquake of 1755, that of Oporto is still there to remind us of a long-standing relationship between Great Britain and Portugal. It justifies a rather greater interest in what is probably the most successful dictatorship in Europe.

For Portugal is breaking with her traditions. After twenty-two revolutions, or attempts at them, in as many years, she has now had almost two years of tranquillity.

Preventing Revolution.
The plebiscite for a new constitution which has just been held will make revolution more difficult than ever. Even electors who did not go near a polling booth did, in effect, vote for this constitution, since Dr. Salazar, the present dictator, had decided that silence would give consent, and that people who were too lazy to vote against him should be counted as voting for him.

By granting a state funeral to the late King Manuel he has disarmed most of the Monarchists (who have, furthermore, no very obvious candidate for the throne), and by instituting new special tribunals in Lisbon and Oporto to deal with conspirators against the State, he will make life so unpleasant for old-time party politicians as to whom revolution was a normal political method that he is probably quite safe in granting an amnesty to all but fifty political exiles.

In other words, it looks as though

Portugal had finished with political upheavals for some time to come, at the cost of a confession that the democratic method has failed—as might perhaps have been expected in a country where less than half the population can read or write.

Parliament House

The seven hills of Rome are mere mounds compared with those of Lisbon, and the Portuguese, though rightly proud of their capital, are oddly reluctant to print maps or guide-books to help the foreigner. But after climbing and descending hills which seemed to have increased in number to seventy times seven, I found myself near a long, white building with a grass-grown square in front of it.

I stopped on a crowded pavement to stare at it, and became involved in a mild altercation with three of the most picturesque figures in Lisbon—the bare-legged women who tramp the streets with great, flat baskets of fish balanced on their heads. Even had my Portuguese been fluent, I could hardly have explained to them why I had stopped, for this white building was the Parliament, and it has been closed for so long that it must have ceased to have any significance for most Portuguese.

It is now nearly seven years since the army once more intervened in politics and established a Government with a young professor, Dr. Salazar, as Minister of Finance. Since that date the Cortes have remained closed.

Budget Deficit.

For years there had been an awkward deficit in the budget, but at the end of Dr. Salazar's first complete year as Minister of Finance that deficit had been turned into a small surplus which has been maintained—so far—despite the world crisis. For years the control of the country had been very much in the hands of the military, but since Dr. Salazar became Prime Minister last July he has had occasion to remind the army that, although it put him where he is, its job is not to meddle in politics. And since nobody accuses Dr. Salazar of having any ambition beyond the salvation of his country, those officers who share his ambition will accept his advice. Unlike most dictators, he hates publicity, and relatively few people have seen even his photograph. He has so big a task ahead of him that he attends as few functions as possible, and one of his desires is to limit the speeches in Parliament to a few minutes' duration.

Dr. Salazar, in fact, differs very widely from most of his compatriots, and therein lies his one great danger. The Portuguese are not particularly anxious to become well-organised and efficient. They are sentimentalists, and would like to be led at a slower pace by a more picturesque personality. If the melancholy resignation which is chief national characteristic may prevent them from revolting against the sacrifices he demands of them, it may also prevent them from supporting him in his task. There can be no doubt that Dr. Salazar has brought about tremendous improvements in Portugal, but it seems very doubtful whether even his admirers will show as much enthusiasm for the National Union, with which he hopes to replace the political parties, as they used to show for the parties themselves.

Spain Disliked

In the absence of a foreign danger—and although Spain is disliked and feared it is difficult to pretend that she imperils the existence of an independent Portugal—the National Union has about it none of that atmosphere of rivalry which gives party politics its zest. So that Dr. Salazar proposes that the new constitution shall give him the continued freedom of action which might have been spontaneously granted in a more advanced country.

For the new constitution certainly has nothing democratic about it. Only heads of families have the right to vote, and they elect only half the members of a Chamber which has no power to turn a Government out of office. The other members represent different corporations organised along the lines of the corporations in Italy. There is also a separate Chamber of Corporations which has to report on proposed legislation. There is even a Council of State, which rather resembles our own Privy Council in its earlier days, and which exists to advise the President of the Republic.

Everything, in fact, is advisory; the Government alone has the power to act, treating advice as most of us treat it.

There can be few constitutions so open to abuse as that under which Portugal is now to be governed. That must be said against it.

And, on the other hand, there can be few statesmen so disinterested as Dr. Salazar and the other young men who work with him. That must be said for it.

And since Dr. Salazar is still under forty years of age, the new constitution should for a long time to come work in the interests of the great majority of Portuguese citizens.

BRIDGE NOTES

SQUEEZE PLAY.

Opportunities for what is known as Squeeze play occur frequently but often pass unrecognized. There are many variations. The most common situation is when Declarer has a long suit of trumps which he plays out in order to force discards from the adversaries, thereby causing them to unguard a suit or part with a winning card in a suit. A simple example of end play is shown—

Y:—
S.—None

C.—K. Q.

B:—
S.—None
H.—None
D.—Q.
C.—6. 2.

Z:—
S.—6.
H.—None
D.—5.
C.—3.

Spades are trumps and Z has the lead.

He leads the 6 of Spades and A is squeezed. If he discards the Queen of Clubs, Y discards the King of Diamonds. If he discards the Ace of Diamonds, Y discards the Knave of Clubs. Whichever he elects to do, Z wins three tricks.

Many players in a similar position hesitate to play out the last trump. They are willing to force discards up to a point, but they dislike parting with the final trump. Frequently it is on this final trump that the issue hangs. In order to recognize the opportunities for squeeze play it is necessary to count accurately the number and size of all cards that have been played. Sometimes it is possible to place with certainty from the bidding or play where the remaining high cards are situated. Often, however, there is no certainty. All the same the Declarer should try for the squeeze when he can see that without it he cannot make his contract or game.

At Contract Bridge the Declarer is sometimes faced with what appears an impossible position. He can see a certain number of tricks, but no more, and he thinks he must fail in his contract. Before surrendering, however, he should assure himself that he cannot squeeze the adversaries effectively. The following hand, which was played in America by Mr. Philip Hals Sims, captain of the famous "Four Horsemen" team, illustrates the use of squeeze play to win a little slam.

Z:—
S.—9.
H.—Q. 9. 8. 7.

C.—5.

On the lead of the Queen of Hearts at the eighth trick A was squeezed effectively. Y retains the suit discarded by A. A threw his 9 of Clubs and the 7 of Spades was discarded from Y. The 5 of Clubs was led by Z and the finesse held over the 10 and Z made the rest of the tricks. If A had discarded a Spade the Club Knave would have been thrown from Y with the same result.

The opening lead by A of the 8 of Diamonds may be questioned. But the short suit opening lead is often good and Diamonds was the only suit which had not been mentioned in the bidding. The merit of Z's play was the recognition that the Diamond was a short suit lead. By the fall of the Knave of Hearts at trick two Z was able to place A as having five Spades and five Clubs. With this to guide him he could see that he could not establish either Hearts or Spades without loss of contract, and therefore the only possibility of success lay in squeeze play and in finding the King of Clubs with A. It was necessary for Z to think out this plan for squeeze play after the second trick.

SINGER HYPNOTISED INTO SUCCESS.

"Trilby" Comes True In Budapest.

Budapest. The story of "Trilby"—the girl whom Svengali hypnotised into becoming a famous singer—has been enacted in real life here.

A woman singer who had been booked to appear before a Budapest audience, became frightened when she heard that a famous star was once booed in this city in the past. She sought the aid of a hypnotist to cure her stage-fright. He succeeded. The concert was a triumphant success—and at its conclusion the singer enthusiastically kissed the hypnotist.—Reuter.

ELECTROCUTED BY COAL SCUTTLE.

Baby Killed While Playing In House.

Hamburg, Pennsylvania. A baby girl was electrocuted here as she played on the kitchen floor which her mother was mopping a few feet away.

The mother said she noticed the sudden stillness of little Loretta and saw the baby lying limp and quiet.

A doctor was hastily summoned and pronounced the death as due to electrocution. He said the child apparently had touched a coal scuttle which was in contact with an electric outlet on the base-board.—Reuter.

TRUSTING.

Maryland. The owner of a local motion picture house announced that customers who wanted to see shows during the "local bank holiday" might attend and "be on their honour to pay later." He did not ask for an I.O.U. or keep a record of persons admitted.—Reuter.

No Relief For The British Taxpayer.

MR. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN'S Budget speech was frankly disappointing and it is not difficult to understand its unenthusiastic reception. The Chancellor has been reproved for his lack of imagination while he has received protests from all sections of the community for his failure to grant any relief in the crippling burden of taxation. The reception was chilly, and even hostile in some quarters. Even "The Times" could say no more than that the Budget was "safe but dull," while the "popular" press launched a bitter attack on the Chancellor for his lack of initiative and his retention of the additional taxes imposed at the time of the crisis, a little over a year ago. It is felt that the Chancellor has concentrated too much on securing a balanced Budget and not enough on exploring avenues for the alleviation of taxation and for providing a stimulus to British industry. A balanced Budget constitutes an impressive and praiseworthy achievement but it is pertinent to ask whether the cost — to the taxpayer and to the country — has not been too great. That business in Britain would receive a tremendous fillip from a reduction of direct taxation is beyond dispute, while in many cases high taxation is defeating its own object. Evidence of this is afforded by the combined yield from income tax and surtax which has fallen below the estimate of £326 millions by no less than £13½ millions — a sure sign that the tax is too high. As a consequence of the extra penny a pint levied on beer last year the revenue from beer, 74 millions, was the lowest for 13 years. Other disquieting features exist in the Budget, and an examination of the Chancellor's figures is far from reassuring. No provision has been made for the June instalment of the war debt and an uneasy conviction exists that some payment will be required. Then, the estimates are based to a large extent on the duties resulting from Britain's Protectionist policy. Britain has just entered into new trade agreements with Germany and Denmark, in which reciprocal tariff reduction have been granted, while other agreements are being negotiated, notably with the Argentine, so that a large drop in the revenue from this source may be expected. This diminution will be of serious proportions if, as seems probable, the proposed international tariff truce, comes into operation. A balanced Budget is a splendid achievement, but if it can be accomplished only through the Government continuing to ignore the appeals for relief for industry which is retarded by the burden of taxation and protracting the relentless pressure on the taxpayer, the performance loses merit.

The Washington Conversations.

FROM the international viewpoint, excellent results appear to have been obtained from the Washington conversations between President Roosevelt, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, M. Herriot and the Canadian Premier, Mr. R. B. Bennett. Yesterday's cables indicate that America will support the British Disarmament Plan, which should now receive the approval of most of the nations represented at the Disarmament Conference. That alone constitutes a notable achievement by the British Premier, but an equally important agreement was reached at Washington when it was decided to initiate an international tariff truce. This move, combined with concerted action to clear the currency confusion, should prove most beneficial, and should provide a stimulus to world trade. The statements issued at Washington were guarded, but evidently the tenor of the discussions was most harmonious, and both Mr. MacDonald and M. Herriot referred with some enthusiasm to the progress that had been accomplished. Prospects for the vital World Economic Conference have improved enormously and it seems that at last the world's statesmen are all aware of the imperative need for co-operation. Disquieting features from the British aspect are the absence of any statement on war debts and the rumour that America is endeavouring to induce Britain to return to the gold standard. Pending definite announcement on these subjects comment is idle, but fears exist that Mr. MacDonald, the internationalist supreme, may, as Britain's representative, have committed his country to further sacrifices for the sake of an ideal.

30,000 MILES OF
THRILLS.Lost In Desert For Three Weeks.

THE "SUPER-HIKER"

Nice. A "super hiker," Mr. George William Kenneth Savage, of Chorlton, Lancashire, has arrived at Nice after travelling 25,000 miles in two years. Mr. Savage has—

Visited 22 countries; Covered 10,000 miles on foot; Fought native mutineers in a river-boat in Africa; Narrowly escaped death by starvation after being lost for three weeks in the Arabian desert; and Braved a temperature of 25 degrees below freezing point while crossing the Alps in shorts and a thin khaki coat.

When Mr. Savage reaches England in June by way of Spain and Portugal he will have completed a 30,000 miles journey packed with thrills and strange encounters.

Bitten by Natives. He was the only white man on board the African river boat when the crew, who were fortunately unarmed, set upon him fiercely with fists and teeth. He was badly bitten before he managed to escape and swim ashore.

He then wandered for 23 days in the desert, but just when he had come to the end of his tether he had the luck to strike an R.A.F. outpost. There he worked for four months as a lorry-driver.

Wishing to visit Egypt, although he had no permit, he stowed away in a cargo-boat for Port Said, where he was detained by the authorities for seven days.

Dared Not Stop Walking. Mr. Savage has also visited many parts of Europe.

While hiking from Austria to Italy through the famous Brenner Pass he dared not stop walking for 16 hours for fear of freezing to death. During that time he had no food.

At the frontier fresh trouble awaited him, as he had only half-a-crown in his pocket and the Italians threatened to turn him back as a vagabond. But a friendly Italian lent him 200 lire until he was safely past the customs.

MADRID POPULATION
NOW 1,000,00056,000 Are Civil Servants.

Madrid. The population of Madrid is shown by new census returns to be nearly a million. In 1923 it was 746,000. Females now exceed males by 60,000.

No fewer than 56,000 persons in Madrid are civil servants. Nine thousand of these are women.

A quarter of a century ago, only 18 women had professions; to-day 278 are dentists, lawyers, etc.

There are only 40 bull-fighters, but there are 3,683 lawyers and 5,000 hairdressers. Building is now proceeding so fast that it provides work for the largest contingent of labour—20,000.—Reuter.

News In Brief.

A coolie, Lee Pong, was bitten on Friday, by a black chow bitch, the property of Chow Fat, of Chai Wan. The bitch and a pup were removed to Kennedy Town for observation.

Ng Wan-tung, a Chinese male was admitted to the Kwong Wah Hospital, on Friday, suffering from injuries to the arms and head caused by falling out of his bed on to the floor, at Shamshuipo.

A Chinese male, Tam Hung-hing, 21, who fell down a ventilator shaft at 13, Des Vaux Road, West, on Friday, and sustained a fractured skull, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital, where he died.

An unknown Chinese female, who attempted to alight from tramcar No. 59, whilst it was in motion in Johnston Road, on Friday, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital in an unconscious condition.

Tang Kui, a Chinese child, of 4, Park Street, was yesterday knocked down at Yaumati, by a motor car driven by Sadulla Khan, and sustained injuries to the head. The child was taken to the Kowloon Hospital, but was not detained.

Cleaning The Abbey.

Visitors to Westminster Abbey, where great works are in progress, will notice with pleasure the lovely colour of the stone in that part of the south transept which has already been treated. Many people believe that the masonry has been whitewashed. This, however, is not so.

The stone, which is Reigate, al-though nearly seven centuries old, is as white as when it was first laid. The Dean has expressed the hope that the whole church may in due course be cleaned; but limited funds make the process, of necessity, a slow one. I am told that another two years are likely to pass before the transept is finished.

I learn that their Majesties have signified their intention again this year to attend a Command Variety performance. The date chosen is Monday, May 22, but as yet the variety house to be honoured and the programme to be presented.

Last year, it may be remembered, the variety artists put on an all-British show of twenty-two items for their Majesties, who expressed themselves as delighted with the entertainment, and, quite obviously, enjoyed their evening. On that occasion the Variety Artists' Benevolent Fund benefited to the extent of over £4,000.

Cheaper or Dearer Postage? The Postmaster-General states that the reduction of the rate on postcards to a halfpenny would mean a loss of a million pounds to the revenue. Capt. Crookshank, M.P., points out that it would be to the convenience of members if postage rates were increased.

The allusion is to the flood of postal communications which pours in on M.P.s—propaganda from organisations interested in some matter under consideration by the House.

Mr. Mellon Takes His Pictures. The staff of the American Embassy must lament the departure of Mr. Mellon, not solely on his own account, but also for the loss from the Embassy itself of the score or more lovely pictures which he hung on its walls during his all-too-short tenancy.

Those masterpieces included famous examples of the work of Gainsborough, Reynolds, Raeburn, Turner and Constable, and the Lancret portrait of Mlle. Camargo, which had been on loan to the French Art Exhibition just before Mr. Mellon's arrival in London.

Bach Cantata Club. The Queen's command to the Bach Cantata Club to sing quite recently at Buckingham Palace will draw attention to a society that has in the past seven years done extraordinarily fine work in a quiet way.

To say that the Club's performances of Bach's cantatas at St. Margaret's, Westminster give us the music in the conditions of Bach's own day would be to flatter Bach's executors, who probably never attained to anything like the faultless style of Mr. Kennedy Scott's singers and players.

Other Days: Other Ways. Mr. Neville Chamberlain, during the Press Gallery dinner at the House of Commons, recalled "those noble draughts of mixed champagne and porter with which our members used to fortify themselves in the small hours during an all-night sitting."

This potent drink, known as "Royal Shandy," is unheard of in the House to-day. All-night sittings without a single order for champagne are not now exceptional.

In the present Parliament the demand for beer during late sittings has also decreased considerably, and most supporters of the National Government keep awake mainly on tea and coffee.

Hunger is more insistent than thirst during the average all-night sitting. There was a sitting less than a year ago when 400 eggs, half a hundredweight of bacon, many links of sausages, and dozens of kidneys were disposed of by a comparatively small number of members.

Sibelius for London. Sibelius, the great Finnish composer, is shortly to pay a visit to London—his first for some considerable time. His fellow-Finn, Kajanus, who is the Sir Henry Wood of Helsinki, was here last autumn to conduct some Sibelius compositions, and the presence of the composer himself may be regarded as a sequel.

Those of his friends who entertain him may look forward to a sleepless time. For Sibelius, it is a warm and convivial soul who hates to go to bed. He speaks little English but plenty of French, and 6 a.m. usually sees him still in good form.

This does not prevent him from being a demon for work, though the much-discussed Eighth Symphony seems as far as ever from completion.

Quick Work at Westminster. Mr. Dobbie, who has achieved a measure of notoriety through taking his seat and making his maiden speech in the Commons on the same afternoon, yet failed to rival the distinction attained by the late Mr. John Redmond.

That distinguished Irishman entered the House on the day following the famous forty-hours coercion debate, took his oath and seat, made his maiden speech, and was suspended and expelled by force from the House for the rest of the sitting—all in the same evening.

"It was not of my choosing," he said afterwards, somewhat sadly, "I had the distinction thrust upon me."

Sir W. Jowitt's Portrait. Sir William Jowitt, whose opening speech in a case recently before the Court of Appeal extended over more than ten days, is the centre of an interesting little romance which has only just come to light.

Many years ago two intimate friends found themselves in very straitened circumstances. One was an artist, unable to pay for his models, and the other a student battling with the perplexities of English law. Things had taken a decided turn for the worse, when inspiration came. The law student sat for his artist friend.

To-day the portrait, bought for the nation, hangs in the Tate Gallery, admired by all as a masterpiece. The artist was Ambrose McEvoy, and the sitter Sir William Jowitt.

Competent Mr. Cooper. It is unusual in these days to see M.P.s observing the old Parliamentary rule of speaking without notes. Indeed, it comes almost as a shock when a member of the Government delivers a long speech on the Estimates for his Department without so much as a sheet of paper in front of him.

This feat was performed by Mr. Duff Cooper, the Financial Secretary to the War Office, in introducing the Army Estimates.

He reviewed the position in the Army after a year of stringent economy, quoting many figures, and not once did he hesitate in his forty minutes of clear exposition.

The only other man I knew who possessed this gift was the late Mr. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade in the Socialist Government.

Mr. Duff Cooper has no mannerisms and he is not forensic. He stands with a hand behind his back, and says what he has to say in a crisp and business-like voice. For he has indeed the unemotional, direct delivery of a soldier—which, of course, he has been.

A Few Facts about

KLIM

1 CONVENIENCE. Klim is pure, rich cream's milk in powdered form. It needs no fire to keep it in summer, and it will not freeze in winter. For convenience, it is sold in the same measure as natural milk.

2 ECONOMY. Klim is economical because there is no waste. It does not sour, and you can store it for a long time without it.

3 FLAVOR. Like natural milk, Klim is of fine flavor, and it is very easy to digest, and it is very good for babies.

4 HEALTHINESS. Klim has all the health benefits of natural milk, with the added benefit of easier digestibility.

5 UNIFORMITY. Klim is standardized for quality and purity, and you can always be certain of the same percentage of fat and sugar every day.

6 VITAMINS. The best technical authorities show that the Klim process does not destroy the vitamins which are so valuable in milk.

How Lactogen Standards are Maintained

Purity

The manufacturing standard of purity established by Lactogen is that the bacterial count of a constituted Lactogen shall be less than 100 organisms per c.c. How high this standard is may be gauged by a comparison with the bacterial count of Certified Grade "A" milk, which is allowed a bacterial count of 200,000 organisms per c.c.

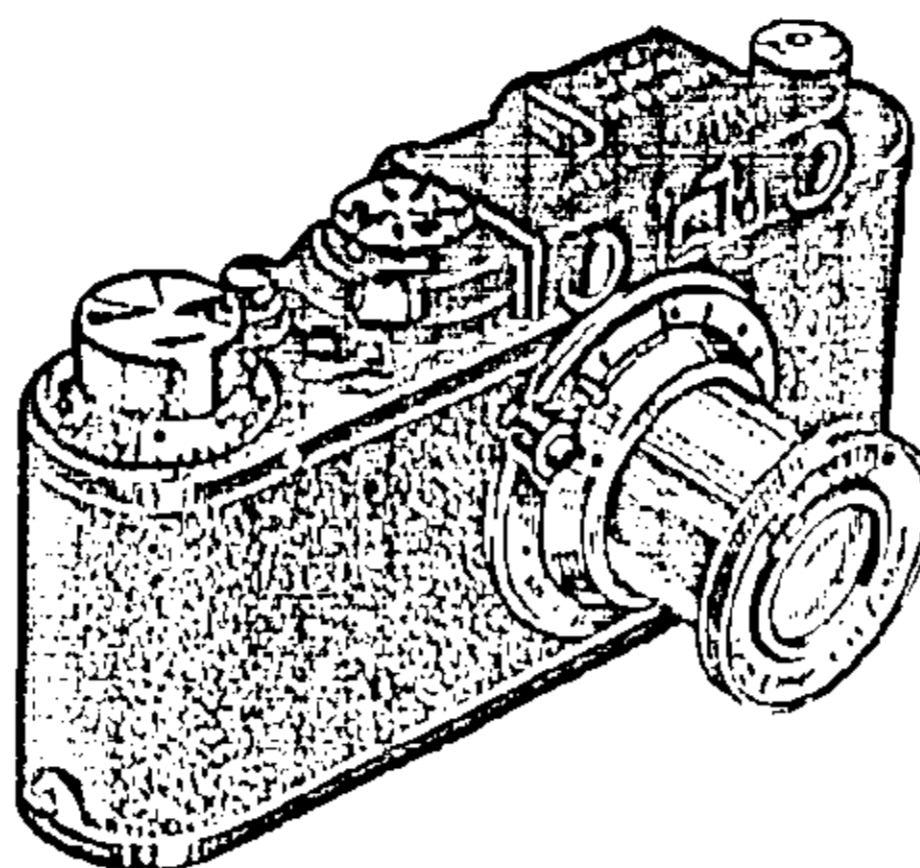

Tests are made at regular intervals with tins of Lactogen taken at random from stock. Any Lactogen failing to pass the purity test is rejected and destroyed. The modification, pasteurisation and homogenisation processes are entirely mechanical; as is also the final desiccation, which is carried out by the roller or cylinder process. All manufacturing and packing processes are carried out under the most strictly hygienic conditions, eliminating thereby any real risk of contamination.

PACIFIC ROCK FOR FRANCE.

Mexico To Hand Over Clipperton Island.

NAMED AFTER PIRATE.

Paris. Clipperton Island, a rock in the Pacific 670 miles off the Mexican coast, will definitely be transferred to France by Mexico, Senor Castillo Nagera, the new Mexican Minister to France, declared upon his arrival here.

The decision of the Mexican foreign relations committee has now to be ratified by the state legislature before the award can be final.

The King of Italy was appointed in 1908 to act as arbitrator on the question of ownership of the island, but he only gave his decision in February, 1931.

The island, which received its name from a notorious English pirate, John Clipperton, is Mexico's only Colonial possession. The French laid claim to the rock in 1858; it was occupied by Americans in 1897, and then claimed by a Mexican gunboat for Mexico.—Reuter.

ADMIRALTY LORD AT MALTA.

Praise For Naval Establishments.

Malta. The dock-yards and naval establishments here are the most important and the best equipped of the naval bases overseas and the fullest use will continue to be made of them, said Captain Euan Wallace, the Civil Lord of the Admiralty.

This statement was made to Reuters Correspondent before the Civil Lord's departure for Sicily on board H. M. Destroyer "Mackay."

He added that he corroborated the statement regarding Malta made in the House of Commons recently by Lord Stanley, Parliamentary and Financial Secretary to the Admiralty.

Captain Wallace denied that there was any special significance to be attached to his visit, which has comprised a tour of inspection of the engineering works and naval establishments here, and watching the Fleet at work.—Reuter.

FAMOUS U.S. PILOT COMING TO HONG KONG.

Brilliant Record

Major Doolittle served with the U.S. Aviation Forces from 1917 until 1930 when he resigned his commission, being placed on the U.S. Reserve list. One of his most notable air feats was the winning of the Schneider Trophy Race in 1925 and the following year, he was awarded the Mackay Trophy. In 1930, he was awarded the coveted Harmon Trophy for having contributed more than any other aviator towards the advancement of aviation in the United States. The following year, competing in the U.S. National Air Meeting, he won the Bendix Trophy Race from Burbank, California, to Cleveland, Ohio. Another of his notable feats was his record-breaking U.S. coast-to-coast dash which he covered in 11 hours and 11 minutes.

World's Record

Last year, on September 3, competing in the U.S. National Air Meeting at Cleveland, Ohio, Major Doolittle set a world's speed record for land planes, speeding 305,050 miles per hour over an official three kilometre course. In last year's national races, Major Doolittle used the Gee Bee racer constructed for Russell Boardman, who was unable to compete due to injuries. The Major's own plane crashed up near Wichita, Kansas, when the ship's retractable gear failed to function properly, but he escaped with a bad shaking up.

Major Doolittle is a Fellow of the Aeronautical Engineers of the U.S. Institute of Technology and is considered one of the world's best pilots. After resigning from the U.S. Aviation Forces, Major Doolittle went into business with James Huzlip, popular and wealthy St. Louis, Missouri, and in this connection, it is rather interesting to note that Huzlip wrested the coast-to-coast record from his business associate at last year's U.S. National Air Races, flying from Los Angeles to New York in 10 hours and 10 minutes. Major Doolittle holds the Distinguished Service Cross with leaves.

TECHNICAL MUSEUM IN SCANDINAVIA

Kr. 2,000,000 Donation By Banker.

GOVERNMENT SITE FREE.

Stockholm. One of the biggest donations ever made for a museum in Sweden, a sum of 2,000,000 kronor, has been given for the purpose of erecting a building for the technical museum of Stockholm by the "Knut and Alice Wallenberg Foundation," founded by the grand old man of Swedish banking, Mr. Knut A. Wallenberg, and his wife Mrs. Alice Wallenberg.

The conditions attached to the donation are that the State should place building space at the disposal of the museum free of cost and that the work, in order to counteract unemployment, should be begun as soon as possible, in any case before the end of 1934.

The technical museum of Stockholm is at present temporarily located in the Royal Swedish Institute for Engineering Research, the head of which is Commercial Counsellor Axel F. Enstrom, one of the most active supporters of the museum. The energetic director of the museum, Mr. T. Althin, has gradually brought together a large, highly interesting and valuable collection of objects and exhibits illustrating the origin, history and development of the present technique and inventions.

The majority of these objects, owing to lack of space, has been stored in different parts of the town, but will now be exhibited in the new museum, which will be built in the immediate vicinity of the town not far from the grounds of the Stockholm Exposition of Arts and Crafts of 1930. It will be constructed in three storeys with a floor space of about 8,000 square metres and will, when ready, be the leading institution of its kind in the North. It will also contain spacious lecture rooms and a library, and it is expected to prove of great value for pedagogical purposes.

Mr. K. A. Wallenberg is Sweden's most generous donor and many millions have in the course of the years been given by him, mostly through the "Knut and Alice Wallenberg Foundation," for various useful national purposes, civic progress, productive research and science.—Reuter.

CATECHISM DAY OBSERVED

"At Home" At Wah Yan College.

BISHOP VALTORTA PRESENTS PRIZES.

Many visitors spent yesterday afternoon at the Great Hall of Wah Yan College, where the Chinese Catholic Young Men's Society held an "At Home."

Guests included His Lordship Bishop Valtorta, Fr. De Angelis, Fr. Gallagher, S.J., Fr. Burke, S.J., Fr. Ngai, the Mother Superior of the Italian Convent, the Mother Superior of the French Convent, the Mother Superior of the Precious Blood Convent, and many of the nuns from the various convents.

Mr. Shek Chung Sun, Chairman of the Society, welcomed his Lordship Bishop Valtorta.

Bishop Valtorta made a short speech, before distributing the prizes won by the pupils of the Chinese Catholic Schools in the Colony in the Catechism Competition.

He said: "This day is Catechism Day, and this is the first occasion on which it has been observed in Hong Kong. I hope and pray that it will be kept every year, I hope and pray that it will be observed every year as long as the Catholic Church is in existence, and that is for as long as Hong Kong with stand."

I hope that this day will be kept more solemnly than any other prize-giving day. Catechism is the most important subject that is taught in schools. I hope that teachers and pupils will take a great interest in this subject and in this day.

When pupils are at school they are taught to fit themselves for a decent and comfortable life in this world. How much more important is Catechism than other subjects taught in schools, for it teaches us to fit ourselves for the next world.

Catechism teaches us to know, to serve, and to love God, therefore we must love the Catechism. Pope Pius XI, when himself a catechism teacher, used to prepare the small chimney sweeps of Milan. Let us learn from his example to teach the Catechism to poor children.

I offer my congratulations and thanks to all teachers of the Catechism, and on behalf of Christ, himself, I dare thank them. They will gain great merit before God. I wish them also every good in this life."

Fr. De Angelis translated the Bishop's speech into Cantonese, and himself spoke on behalf of the students.

Prize Winners

The prize-winners were: Senior Champion: Pui Ching (Italian Convent). Runners-up: St. Paul's. Junior Champion: Ching Kau (Precious Blood Convent). Runners-up: Tak Ying 2nd Branch (Precious Blood Convent).

Distinctions are awarded to the following:

Misses Chau Kit Tak, Tsang Yuk Hing, Leong, Chi Shau, Lui Fung Ngan, (Italian Convent), Lui Yik Fun, Lui Kam Tai, Wong Kam Tai, (Tak Ying School), Tsui Yuet Hing, Cheng Yuk Ping, Fung Kit Ling, Ma Yuen Yun, (St. Paul), Yim Kai Yan, Pang Yik Yu, Tsang Shu Ngo, (Ching Kau), So Yuet Hing, Yuen Woon Kwai, Sin Yat Foon, Lam Yauk Lau, (Tak Ying 2nd Branch), Master Chan Yee Yan, Leong Hon Cheun, (Kai Lap), Hae Wai Kang, Chu Kwai Mui, Ho Wai Lin, Chan Fung Lin, (Pui Ching), Lau Wai Shim, Leong Fong, (Tak Ying Middle School), Leong Sam Mui, (Yeung Tak School), Tam Ming Wan, (St. Margaret's School), Chan Fung Hing (Tak Ying School).

Music And A Play

The afternoon's programme was as follows:

Address of the Chairman (Mr. Shek Chung Sun). Chinese Music. Address by His Lordship Bishop Valtorta. Prize Distribution of the Catechism Competition. Speech (the guests). Speech (the students). Music: Selected piece. Comedy. "Two Wounded Soldiers" (In two parts). National Anthem.

NEW HELP TO CRIME DETECTION

Modus Operandi System Proves Invaluable.

THE DREADED TRIANGLE.

Sydney. Criminals are finding that their battle of wits with the police is becoming more difficult every day. In many cases the evidence that will lead to their discovery is in the hands of the C. I. B. long before the "job" is planned, for the secret records at the detective office contain the exact methods used by every known criminal.

The "Modus operandi" system introduced to crime detection by Superintendent Mackay after his tour of England, America and France, has proved invaluable.

Every possible branch of crime is indexed by a special staff of four men and five girls at detective Headquarters. An investigator collects clues, discovers the mode of entry and probable transport used to carry out a certain "job," and passes the information on to the "M.O." room. After checking the tabulated records, the officers there can almost with certainty in most cases name a suspect.

Defectives are expected to supply certain officials with as many details as they can provide about the criminals they know. With the names are tabulated the criminals' habits, haunts, friends' names, family history, vices, classes of crime and many other details.

Scores of the criminals tabulated now have the dreaded triangle on their cards—a sign that they are prisoners. The department looks upon them as dead—but the "live" sign is placed on their cards the day they are released.—Reuter.

ATLANTIC OCEAN 9 MILES DEEP.

Bartsch Expedition Sets New Sounding Record.

San Juan, Porto Rico.

A new Atlantic depth of 44,000 feet—almost nine miles—has been discovered by a scientific expedition directed by Dr. Paul Bartsch.

The new depth adds more than three miles to previously recorded sounding in the Nares Deep, 75 miles north of Porto Rico.

The Nares Deep has not been sounded since the Challenger Expedition commanded by the British explorer, Sir George Strong Nares, 1872-74. Commander Nares, using hamper rope, discovered depths of 27,972 feet, which remained for many years the only authenticated record.

The Bartsch Expedition's discovery sets a new world's record for the measuring of ocean depths. Previously, the greatest known depth was reported by the German cruiser "Emden". It reported a depth of 34,416 feet in the Pacific between Colobos Island, Dutch East Indies and Nagasaki, Japan.—Reuter.

Woman's Daily Vigil In Bank.

Los Angeles. The "bank sitting siege" of Mrs. Casady has been ended by a court order.

Mrs. Casady maintained a daily vigil in a bank where her divorced husband is employed in the hope of bringing about payment of $8,500 which she claims is due to her in alimony. Mrs. Casady and her employees objected to the lady's presence in the bank. The Judge in granting an injunction against her, said that while she had the right to attempt to collect my alimony due her she must not sit determined in a place of business for the purpose of annoying her former mate.—Reuter.

BOW BELLS TO RING AGAIN.

Restoration Proceeding At Famous Church.

HELP FROM AMERICA.

London. Bow Bells, within whose sound all true Cockneys are supposed to be born, are soon—it is hoped—to ring out again over Cheapside and the booming life of the City after a silence of six years.

The little death watch beetle has silenced these famous bells, and outside the church of St. Mary-le-Bone lie huge broken beams, with a notice saying: "These are rotten beams from the roof of this church. See what dry rot and the death watch beetle have done."

Bow Bells are at present at the Crocydon foundry being recast and repaired. Up in the bell tower the builders are cementing the framework of the bells.

Although the City Corporation has given 1,000 guineas towards the restoration work there is still a notice outside that "owing to lack of funds to complete the restoration of this church it will be closed until further notice."

Offers of help have even come from America where there is a sentimental regard for the church in whose Norman crypt still lie the coffins of those who died in the Great Plague during the reign of Charles II.—Reuter.

CANNIBALS ARMED WITH RIFLES.

Young Natives Take Up Teaching.

Melbourne.

Cannibals are becoming all the more dangerous now, since they have taken up modern guns and rifles and have forsaken their native bows and spears.

It was in the midst of these cannibals that Pastor A. G. Stewart has spent 25 years as a South Sea Missionary. He just arrived here on holiday.

In the course of his missionary work Pastor Stewart says he has met native chiefs who take up to as many as 100 wives.

He declares that cannibalism among the wild tribes of Malekula is dying out and that the young people are training to become teachers.—Reuter.

GAINS $7.50 FROM ROBBERS

Hold-Up Men Lose On Deal.

Chicago.

Nicholas Ramos told police he came out $7.50 ahead when two robbers held him up.

As one of two entered his fruit store and pulled a revolver from his pocket a $10 note fluttered to the floor unnoticed by all but Ramos.

A moment later the robbers fled, taking $2.50 from the cash box. Ramos pocketed the $10 note and called it a profitable transaction.—Reuter.

HINKLER'S BODY FOUND.

Hinkler, who left England on January 7 in the Puss-Moth aeroplane in which he flew the South Atlantic over a year ago, shrouded his flight in secrecy, but it was thought that he intended to fly down the Rhone Valley, along the French and Italian Riviera, to Rome, over the Apennines to Brindisi, and if fuel permitted, over 360 miles of the Adriatic Sea to Athens.

Captain Hope, the well-known British airman, spent many days scouring the Alps for trace of the missing flyer, but after many hazardous flights, he was forced to abandon his attempts owing to bad weather conditions.

Squadron-Leader Harold (Bert) Hinkler was a native of Bundaberg, Queensland, and was 39 years of age. He came to England during the War, and flew as far as Rome in an Avro machine, becoming, later, test pilot to the Avro Company.

He was the first pilot to take a 1,000 h.p. Napier Cub into the air. In 1925 he flew the Gloster. Napier racer for England in the Schneider Trophy.

He flew from Crocydon to Port Darwin in 16½ days in 1928, and also made the first successful crossing of the South Atlantic. He was awarded the A.F.C., and holds the Britannia Trophy for 1929.—Reuter.

In Defence Of The Resurrection

Miracle Laid Foundation Of The Church

GERMAN LEGEND DISCREDITED

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

THE Saturday that intervened between Good Friday and Easter Day was a heart-breaking one for the followers of Jesus of Nazareth.

They saw only a dead body lifted from the cross. Their hearts were buried with their Master. They had risked everything for Him. His enemies had won after all. What chance had anyone to revive, however pungent the spices may have been, at a time, too, when anti-spices were unknown?

A more persistent and plausible theory was that of visions, beginning with Mary Magdalene. An hysterical woman, who so greatly loved, might so easily be mistaken through her vivid imagination, and, in the city and out of it, meeting each other and crying: "The Lord is risen."—He has sent messages to us all. We are to meet Him in Galilee. It was all too good, to be true. They even loved to think of that dreadful yesterday, deepening with contrast the gladness of to-day. As the days went on all life was revolutionised for them. They lived in a new world of wonder and romance.

Their comrades and Master was no less than God in human guise. They went out in the strength of that unshakable conviction in the after years to turn the world upside down. The whole Easter story moves in an atmosphere of joy. And that very joy is one of the strongest evidences for the fact of the Resurrection. What turned the cowards of Good Friday into the heroes of the Book of the Acts? Men will tell lies sometimes to save their skins, but I have never heard of anyone lying deliberately in order to be put to death.

There are those who claim to account for the fact of Easter in some other way, and are afraid that if they knew the best that clever sceptics could say it would destroy their faith. But they need have no fear. Unless the Gospel story is intentional fraud, unless Christianity is the greatest bluff ever perpetrated upon the world, and Christ the greatest impostor who ever lived the Resurrection is a fact and not a fable.

Legend cannot account for it. They grew rapidly in an excited atmosphere. Many a baseness legend has gained acceptance without in a century. But this had no time to grow. Within a week the despondent disciples were convinced and rejoicing. Within two months Peter was challenging the Jews to their teeth in Jerusalem within sight of Calvary. Before a single gospel had been written St. Paul was risking his life on the truth of it. Legend is banned out.

German Supposition. Here is a theory that was once popular amongst the German atheists. There was something suspicious in Pilate's surprise that Christ was already dead. Crucifixion is usually a slow process. It took a long time for a man to die. Perhaps Christ was not quite dead. The poor cramped, nerve shaken man may have been awakened from a death-like swoon by the cold tomb, and the sharp pungent spices with which the body had been surrounded.

What a likely explanation of the Easter story! We have, as we have seen, to account somehow for the sudden joy of the disciples, for cowards turned into heroes, for the powerful conquest that conquered the world. We are told that Jesus of Nazareth and His Apostles connived at a miserable deception,—of a poor, crawling, spectre whispering days, and hiding and dying again, unknown and unheard of a few years sponsoring the cheque plan, explain: "People will spend cheques, where they will not spend cash. It is this that has stirred the world for the Lord of life? Is it Circulating once every day, 1,000 for which James and Peter and one dollar cheques are of more value to the Lord of life? Is it the great Christian value to a community than $10,000 Paul died? Is the great Christian value to a community than $10,000 throughout the world built on such a glorious foundation? Remember, accept the cheques as "change," ver, too, that when the soldiers came along in the evening, to make as payment for goods.—Reuter.

quite sure there was no deception, although to all outward seeming He was dead, one of them thrust a spear into His side. Medical science has since attested that the recorded fact that blood came from the wound mingled with water, can only be accounted for by the fact, that He died literally of a broken heart. What chance had anyone to revive, however pungent the spices may have been, at a time, too, when anti-spices were unknown?

12 BRITISH JOURNALISTS ENTERTAINED

Guests of German
State Railways.
TOUR THROUGH BAVARIA.

Munich.
A dozen British journalists have left for England after a week's tour of Bavaria, including a stay in Europe's most "exclusive" hotel. They were the guests of the German State Railways.

The hotel in question is situated near the summit of the Zugspitze, Germany's highest mountain peak, nearly 10,000 feet above sea level. It is so exclusive that it stands like an island of civilization on the sheer mountain slopes of snow with no visible connexion with the normal haunts of mankind; no roads, no village, no kind of habitation in sight.

The only link with the rest of the world is by means of a mountain railway which emerges inside the hotel itself. It penetrates by means of a three-mile tunnel blasted through the solid rock to the slopes that reach to the valley below.

In spite of blizzard conditions,
the party indulged in skiing.
One journalist injured his eye in a fall, but is now none the worse for the experience.

Expert ski-jumping, ice hockey, trick skating and Bavarian dancing were witnessed by the visitors at Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

Munich Reception.

An afternoon was spent at Oberammergau where Herr Alois
Lang (who plays the part of Jesus Christ in next year's Passion Play) helped the visitors to understand the intricacies of the great theatre erected in the village.

The British newspapermen were received by the Municipality in the town hall at Munich.
Here they were also shown some of the wonders of the Deutsches
Museum by its 78-year-old founder, Herr Von Miller, and taken round various other local places of interest.

Three nights in all were spent in Munich — at the height of the Fasching (or carnival) festivities — and the British visitors were given striking proof of Bavarian hospitality.

The party included Messrs.
Hurdy Barrett (Financial Times),
Skene Callling (Reuters), R. F.
Church (Central News), Mervyn
Ellis (Morning Post), C. Gabber-tas (News Chronicle), Geoffrey (Daily Express), A. D. Guggan

bury (Photopress), F. J. Mortimer (Amateur Photographer),

ial), and H. R. Shaw (Liver-

FAMOUS POLITICAL WRITER PASSES.

M. Edouard Julia's
Great Record.

Paris.
Edouard Julia, political editor of "Le Temps" and one of the most influential of the distinguished group of writers attached to that newspaper, has died here at the age of 60 years.
He was a close friend for over 30 years of the late President
Doumer and was with him at the moment of his death. On the outbreak of war, M. Julia joined up as a doctor, as before becoming a journalist he had studied medicine. He was one of the first to be awarded the Croix de Guerre. He served both on the western and Salonikan fronts.
A penetrating writer on political and economic subjects, he was one of the last surviving exponents in France of nineteenth century liberalism.—Reuter.

FARMER PAYS FINE WITH RICE.

U.S. Banking Crisis
Sequel.

Penebluff, Arkansas.
Two hundred pounds of rice was used to pay a fine in the Municipal Court here during the banking crisis.

A farmer driving a lorry loaded with rice made the mistake of driving on a street restricted to light traffic only.

He was arrested, pleaded guilty and fined $5. Immediately he unloaded two 100 pounds sacks of rice which he tendered in payment.

It was accepted and 16 prisoners in the city jail were informed that they would have plenty of rice to eat for the next few days.—Reuter.

favoured by a good start, and was actually last at the foothill stands. National Day was always in a good position, being just behind Melody (Mr. da Roza), which was third at the Rock.

Mr. "Benny" Proulx came through with a great rush in the back straight to record his second win of the afternoon. Melody hung on gamely, but was beaten by 1½ lengths. De Minimis, said to be one of the best of the second batch of subs, was a length behind for third place. Paul Jones, Gay Butterfly, Duplex, Disorderly Conduct, Aden and Victor finished in that order.

Navy Hall's Win.

Mr. "Benny" Proulx brought Navy Hall home for the pony's third successive win when he beat Blue Star by a length in an exciting finish to the High West Handicap. The public, however, were prepared for another win for the Samson entrant, and as a result only $13.20, instead of the two three-figure dividends which featured the pony's last two successes was paid out.

Navy Hall was up with the leaders at the start with Valorous and The Tiger, second and third favourites, lying in good positions. Mike (Mr. Botelho) went into the lead at the foothill stands, but Blaire (Mr. Butler) was to the fore at the Rock where Navy Hall was coming through with Valorous. Blaire pelted out in the straight and Navy Hall, moving beautifully, won convincingly from Blue Star, which had come up well under Mr. Liang, and Valorous (Mr. Heard). Marquis Hall was fourth.

Mr. Fung's First.

Adam caved quite a stir at the start of the "D" Class event when he lashed out and caught Mr. Ingram across the leg. Fortunately that rider was not badly hurt. Adam also kicked Partnership, forcing Mr. Black into seventeenth place instead of twelfth at the start.

Adam, right on his toes, responded well to Mr. Frost's urge when the gate went up, and led at the Rock with Orlando (Mr. Fung). King Salmon lay fourth at this point. Orlando appeared to tire when entering the straight, but Mr. Fung hung on well, and kept his slight lead in the face of Mr. Frost's strong challenge. King Salmon, the favourite, was third, 3½ lengths behind the winner. Iron Grey and Golly Eyes came fourth and fifth in the biggest field of the day—17 starters.

Orlando's win provided Mr. Y. T. Fung with his first win of the season, and gave daring punters the substantial win dividend of $122.50.

Protest Not Upheld.

The last race of the day saw the first false start of the season, and the only spill of the afternoon. Jack O'Lantern gave trouble at the start, and caused Mr. Sleep to raise the gate too soon. The ponies were recalled, but not before Mr. da Roza was unseated by The Crook. The jockey, however, was not seriously hurt, and the pony soon secured.

Jack O'Lantern got away to a good start, as did The Crook, but Mr. Peter Young's mount was leading at the Rock. King's Parade (Mr. Heard), which had been in a favourable position, was seen to close with the leaders in the back straight, though Hey Tor (Mr. Proulx) looked the more dangerous challenger.

At the public stands Jack O'Lantern was out of the race and the result looked a certainty for Mr. "Benny" Proulx. His mount, however, swerved right across the track, and it was fortunate that King's Parade, his nearest rival, was on the rails, otherwise there might have been a serious collision.

Hey Tor lost at least two lengths as the result of this and Mr. Heard brought King's Parade through to win by three lengths. Hey Tor was second with The Crook two lengths behind. The Goat was fourth.

King's Parade, Mr. Heard's third winner of the afternoon, paid $48.30 a win.

At the conclusion of the race a protest was lodged against Hey Tor (Mr. Proulx) for cutting across the field, but at a meeting of the Stewards the protest was not upheld.

Results were as follows:

Retailed Road Licences

An unusual case was heard in Glasgow recently when a youth of 10 pleaded guilty to four charges of stealing Road Fund licences from cars in the city, and also to altering the licences and removing figures. He had sold one of the altered licences for £5.

SALTER TRANSPORT REPORT.

A Knock At Lord Buckmaster.

What I like about the ingenious Lord Buckmaster is that one can almost hear him think, writes the "Highwayman" in "Motor Transport."

He has been a great upholder in the House of Lords of the implementing of the Salter Report, and has also made impractical suggestions about the reduction of road accidents. Now he has persuaded the Lords to pass his motion for the abolition of the Ministry of Transport (a motion, incidentally, which is likely to prove of no avail). Proposing the motion, he complained that the Salter Report had been practically shelved and the Ministry had turned down every proposal to lessen the scandal of road accidents. The remedy is obvious (to Lord Buckmaster)—"Abolish the Ministry and get my own way! Jolly well teach them, by gad!"

Dawdling Along At Daytona

Speed King Has Roughest Ride Of Life

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL'S OWN STORY

THE thrill of driving an immensely powerful car at 272 miles per hour was described to newspaper men by Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's land speed record, after his record-breaking dash at Daytona, recently. "The worst ride I have ever had in my life," were his first remarks on being approached. "Only 4½ miles a minute instead of the five miles aimed at," he added.

The bad condition of the beach robbed the daring Briton of his chance of attaining 300 miles per hour.

"I have often been asked—am asked every year, in fact—what my feelings are during record attempts," he said. "Well, first, there are the interminable delays while waiting for the word to go. Of course, the delays are not interminable; they only seem so. Finally, the word comes: 'All clear!'"

"My good lads start the Bluebird engines. By means of compressed air I switch on the ignition and the Rolls engines roar away. We get off slowly, first in low gear, then, with the engine revolving about 2,300 to 2,800, into second, then into high.

Flags A Picket Fence. "At the end of the first mile I am going approximately 140 miles an hour. The line of flags at my left, set 100 yards apart, begin to draw together.

Now they are practically a picket fence, even closer, if that be possible, for I am covering more than 375 feet a second.

"The huge numbers to my left, set at each mile-post, jump before my vision. I read No. 4, which means four miles to the record mile. Before my vision focuses properly on it, it is gone.

"No. 3 breaks the line of flags. I look at my tachometer, which is the same as my speedometer. The revs mount—2,600, 2,800, 3,000, 3,200. I know I am far above last year's record speed.

"My foot is hard on the accelerator. I see, as a thing detached, the yellow-and-black rectangular marker above the start of the mile. I press my foot down harder.

"I wait ages, it seems. I look at the rev counter. Time does not fly; it creeps.

Seconds Seem Ages. "Another age, almost. At last there is another rectangular yellow-and-black marker overhead. I find myself breathing again as though I had not before.

"I have finished my record run. It has taken me seconds just over twelve, but it seems ages, actually. "A change of tires, now, for it would be suicidal to use the same ones again, "and back I go northward." Thus the tale of speed: "Again the blur of flags, punctuated by the huge markers indicating the miles. The yellow rectangle striped with black again overhead.

"I favour my left hand a bit, the hand wrapped to the elbow with elastic bandage, where I had sprained the tendons, last week.

"My car takes a swerve on this return trip. It almost gets out of hand as I finish, with her radiator pointing toward the sand-dunes and going for the soft sand. But she answers the helm, and I am back on a straight line again.

"Let Car Down." "Comes the long, long mile, undoubtedly the longest mile in the world. Finally it passes, I ease up and coast, putting on my brakes, slowing to a crawl of 100 miles an hour.

"The record run is over. I'm relieved, but actually I am not too happy. I have sort of let my car down, or conditions have.

"I should have set the mark at least 15 miles higher. Ah, well, I think it can be done some other time.

"The beach was so rough that on several occasions I thought I was gone. If the car had not responded to control so magnificently, I should have landed either in the sand-dunes or in the ocean.

"On my first run, my tachometer, or engine-speed indicator, showed I was doing 330 miles an hour, but the course was so rough my wheels were spinning almost constantly, so my actual forward speed was reduced greatly.

"The visibility was very, very bad. First I was heading for the sand-dunes, and the next instant I was heading for the sea. The car was shaking all over the course.

"From the very start, my arm was hurting me badly. It was all I could do to shift gears. Then when I got up fairly good speed, I bumped along over the course like a pea in a pot.

Beach Bumpy. "I did not put my foot down hard on the accelerator until I had almost reached the measured mile, because the car would not have stayed under control at high speed with the beach as bumpy as it was.

"The shells scattered along the beach cut his tires so badly that he had to replace these after the first trial run. He continues: "On both of my runs there were times when I could see no distance whatever ahead. I just had to guess and trust to luck.

"Also, I was bothered by sand being kicked into my face, and by strong fumes from the motor.

FINE PERFORMANCE OF NEW MORRIS

Isis Sportsman's Coupe Praised.

The following extracts are taken from a letter from Mr. F. V. Jordan, of Mosul, Iraq, which recently appeared in the "Autocar."

"When on leave this year, after a good look round, my choice fell on a Morris Isis sportsman's coupe. I drove this car for over 1,000 miles in England, and have recently driven it out here without the slightest trouble of any kind. It never dropped below 20 m.p.h. over the Simplon Pass, and did most of the climb on third speed—no photographs, except at the summit. I did from 50 to 60 m.p.h. wherever possible all the way from Calais to Brindisi, and never used a drop of water in spite of a very much over-laden car.

"The only time it needed water was on the appalling portion of the desert between Aleppo and Dier-az-Zor, where, owing to a strong following wind and only being able to do about 8 m.p.h., it used about a gallon of water in some 40 miles. In 2,520 miles neither the gearbox nor the back axle needed oil; petrol consumption was over 22 m.p.g., and lubricating oils about 1,000 m.p.g.—not less. The car attracted great attention wherever we stopped, particularly in Italy and Syria, and I had to answer many questions as to its performance.

"I consider that any Britisher who does not buy British is a traitor to his country, as British cars today are as good as the best."

REDUCING TRAFFIC OBSTRUCTION.

Quicker Buses In Paris.

The Paris bus organisation is to put into service over 150 new buses with six-cylinder overhead-valve engines. By reason of their more rapid acceleration and better hill-climbing abilities, the new vehicles, according to "Motor Transport," allow of a much higher average speed than the four-cylinder models.

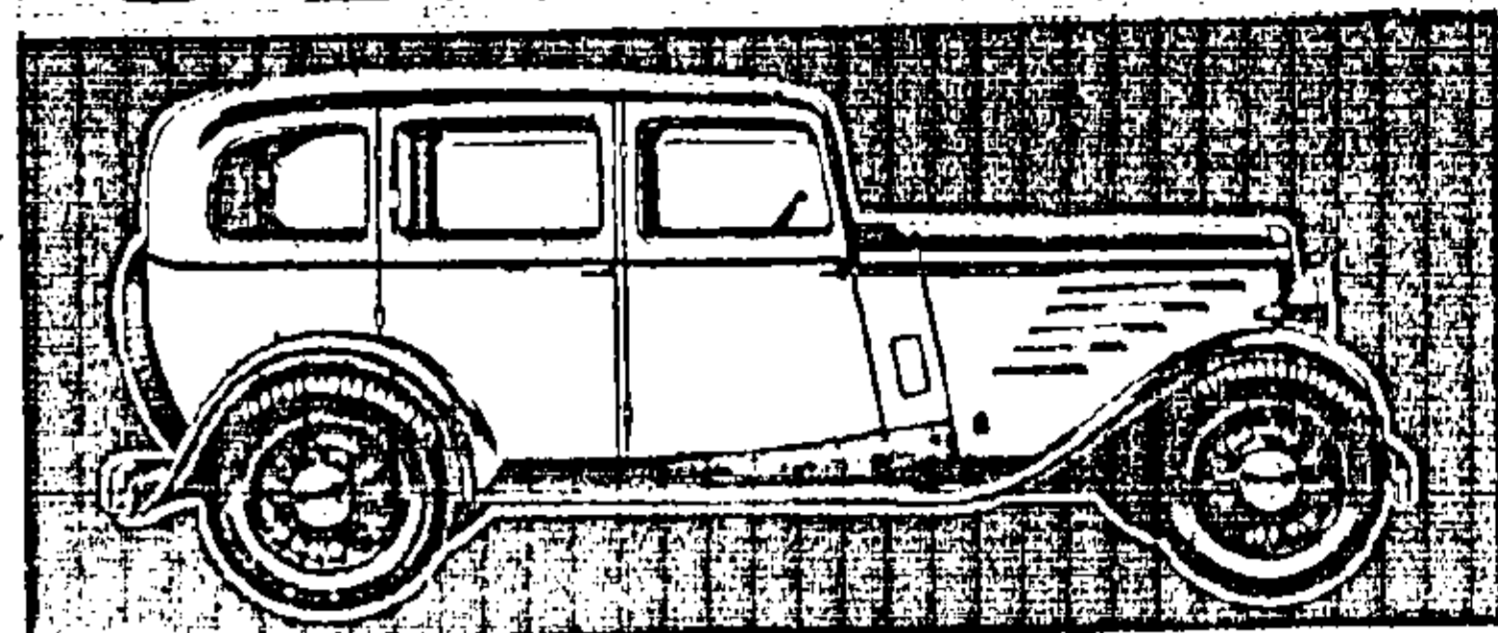

Timetables have been altered in consequence, and the company is seeking to raise the average speed of its buses to that of private cars and taxicabs, thus reducing traffic obstruction.

"The car behaved magnificently under the terrible conditions, but I certainly had a tough time keeping it from running all over the beach.

Roughest Ride Of Life. "Frankly, it was the roughest ride I ever had, and I'll multiply that 50 times. It is not an easy matter to frighten me, but honestly, if the car had not controlled so magnificently, and I did not have confidence in it, I don't know what I would have done.

"It answered to the controls marvelously, otherwise I should have lost complete control of it, and that would have been bad.

The most popular car in its class is the 1933 SINGER

Wherever you go these days you see an extraordinary number of Singers on the roads. Why? Because the new 1933 models have created a new standard of motoring value. They offer the motorist comfortable, speedy transport at low upkeep cost. The redesigned combustion chamber gives greater power though the petrol consumption is low. The Singer coachwork is roomy and dignified, yet weight has been kept down so that tyres last longer. A Singer represents intelligent economy. That is why more people are becoming Singer enthusiasts every day.

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

"STYLE," as applied to the Packard, has always meant something more.

Associated with it, logically and distinctively, is the other important word, "enduring"—a Packard characteristic for a third of a century.

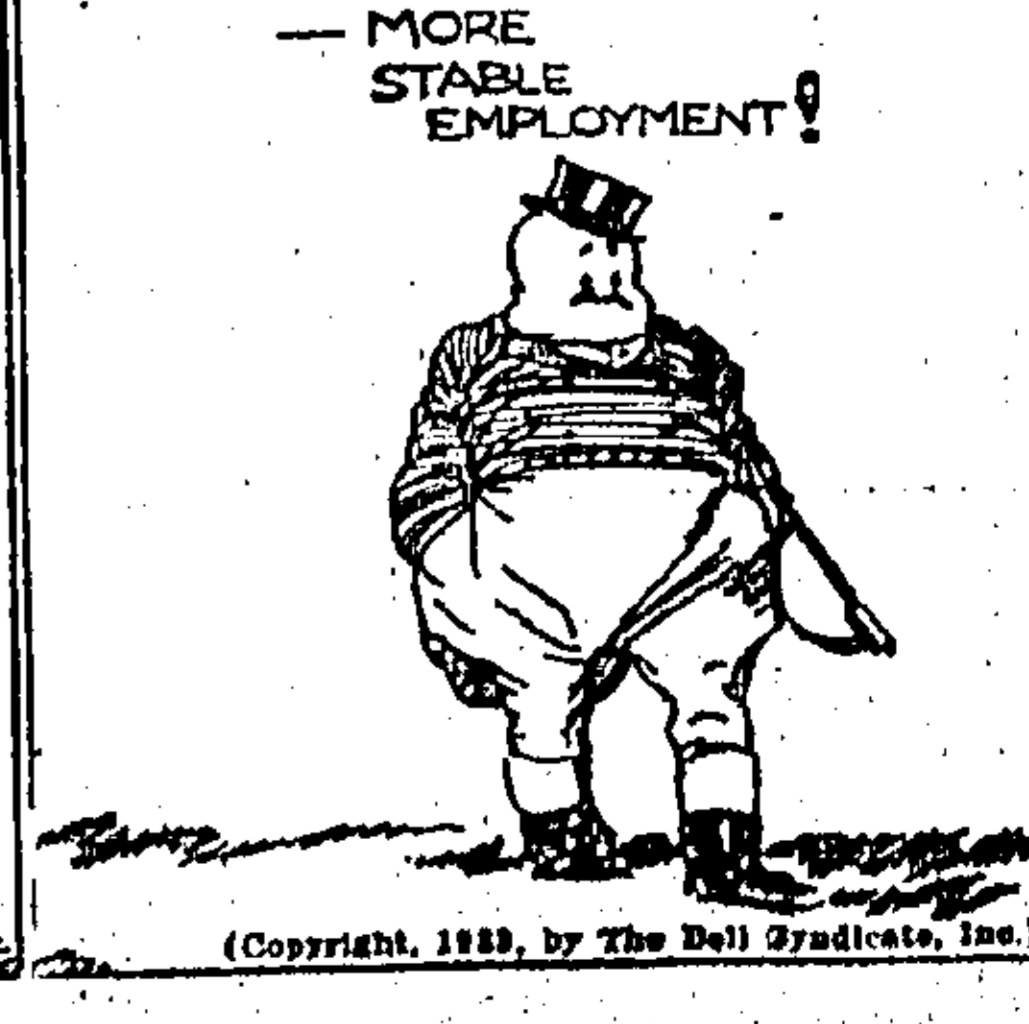

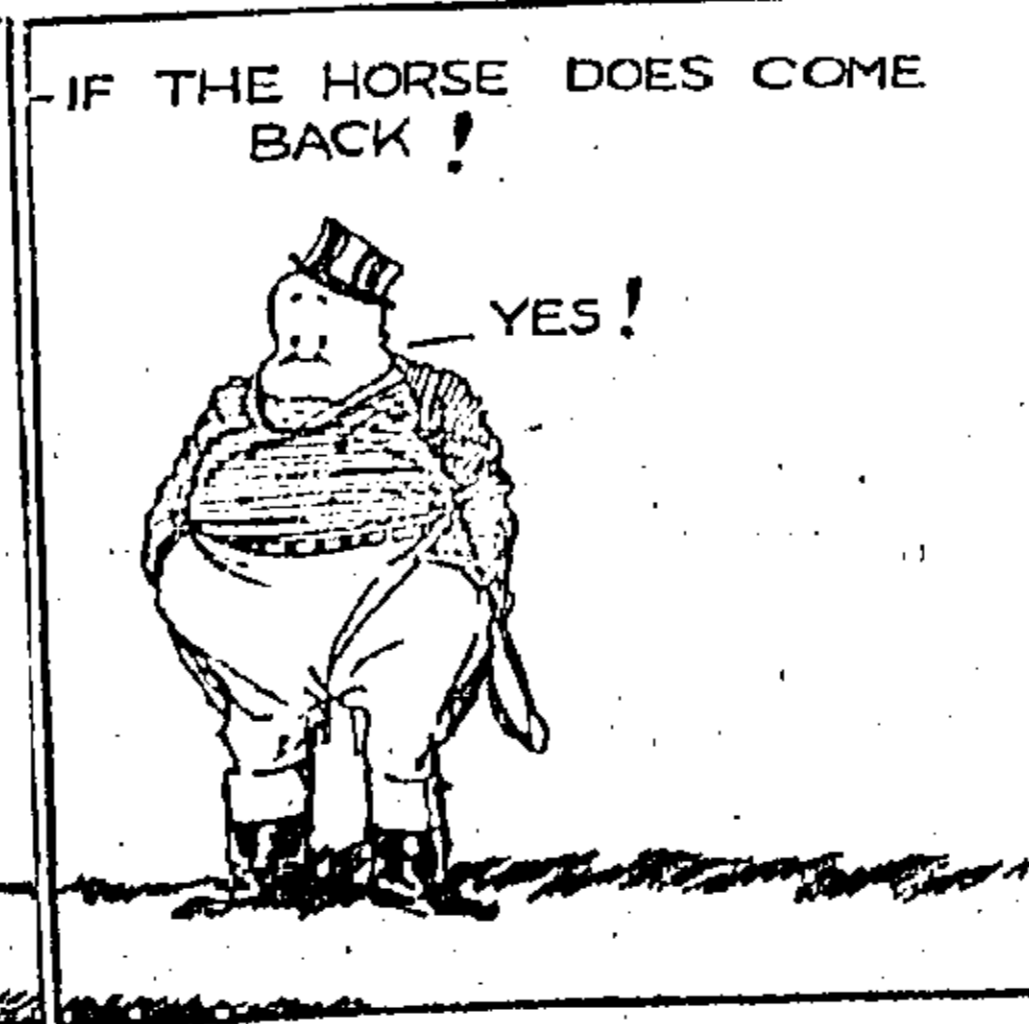

So gradually and correctly has Packard style evolved—like the slow unfolding of a beautiful flower—it has never been at the mercy of that capricious mood which too often alienates to-morrow's style from that of to-day.

AMERICAN WINS CLASSIC

Winning Horse Named
After Owner's Niece.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

Newmarket, Yesterday.
Mr. William Woodward, chairman of the American Jockey Club and chairman of the Central Hanover Bank, carried off the first All-England classic, the One Thousand Guineas, with Brown Betty, who cleverly beat M. Washington Singer's Furor and Lord Lonsdale's Myrobellia.

Brown Betty is named after the owner's niece who was present, wildly excited, to cheer her nameake home.

$10,000 DAMAGE FROM BOMB.

Peiping Store Attacked.

BLOOD AND IRON SOCIETY ACTIVE.

Peiping, April 28.
One of Peiping's Iron and Blood Societies caused $10,000 damage when at 8.30 o'clock to-night one of their members walked into a large department store and tossed a bomb towards the counter.

One assistant was badly injured about the head, while the explosion fired a quantity of "Mills" causing a conflagration which the Manager of the department store estimates destroyed goods to the value of $10,000.

The store had been threatened before, but complied with every demand of the Blood and Iron Society, offering as free gifts any Japanese goods that can be found in the store.—Reuter.

NO WAR MATERIALS WANTED

Chinese Commission
Busy in London.

PLANT PURCHASES

A red notice has been posted at the entrance to the London headquarters of the Chinese Government Purchasing Commission, emphasising the fact that the Commission is not concerned with buying war material of any description.

Doctor Wang, the Director of the Commission, told Reuter's Correspondent that the whole Commission was busily engaged with orders for rails, locomotives, wagons and electrical plant for the National Construction Commission. He said that the Japanese "invasion" was naturally delaying different organisations in China in sending orders for purchases. Only to that extent was the present crisis affecting the work of the Commission, although additional war risks involved increased insurance expenses.

Among the latest business being transacted, he added, was the purchase of $100,000 worth of material for the Hanchow-Kiangshan railway.—Reuter.

FRENCH AVIATRIX HERE.

After leaving Swatow, a violent rainstorm drove her 80 miles off her original course, making her about an hour overdue at Kai Tak.

Mlle. Hiltz denied that she was out to break the Tokyo to Paris record, and said she was travelling back to Paris by easy stages. She intended to make Hanoi her next port of call, leaving her this morning. From Hanoi she will go to Saigon, where she will stay several days.

Mlle. Hiltz is accompanied by M. Lemaire, her mechanic. She is flying the same plane in which she made a record flight from Paris to Madagascar last year, and in which she created a woman's altitude record of 10,000 metres.
